

ELEVEN RUSSIAN WARSHIPS WERE DAMAGED

JAPANESE SEND 20,000 MEN TO RUSSIANS SAY SEVERAL OF THE KOREA---LINED UP FOR BATTLE MIKADO'S SHIPS WERE DESTROYED

AT WORK ON THE LINE OF COMMUNICATIONS: REPAIRING DAMAGES AT DALNY.
The importance to Russia of the railway to Port Arthur cannot be over-estimated; hence the feverish anxiety to repair the damage done by the sea to the line at Dalny. Taiten-wan, which the Russians have christened Dalny, is close to Port Arthur, and may one day be an important commercial center.

JAPANESE TROOPS POURING INTO KOREA.

Port Arthur Will be Seized When the Little Kingdom is Well Occupied.

WASHINGTON, February 15.—Information has reached here that nearly 20,000 Japanese troops were landed at Chemulpo yesterday, the first division of a large number which will be thrown into Korea as rapidly as possible in the effort to thoroughly occupy the strategic hermit kingdom, while the Russian fleet is bottled up in Port Arthur.

JAPAN'S PLAN.

By one conversant with the Japanese plans it is said that the repeated attacks on Port Arthur are not for the purpose of seizing that place at present unless an unexpected weakness in the fortifications there should develop. They are part of a well defined plan for the harassing of the Russian fleet until Korea can be occupied. The bottling up of the fleet there enables the landing of troops in Korea without the convoy of a large number of warships.

The reports of disorder in the various parts of Korea hastened the operations of the Japanese in order that they might obtain possession before anarchy became prevalent and foreign interests menaced in consequence.

TO TAKE PORT ARTHUR.

The taking of Port Arthur will form the second number of the war program. First, however, it is learned that the Japanese propose to cut the line of communication well up on the railroad running from Nieu Chang to Port Arthur. It is expected that a large Japanese force will land at Nieu Chang shortly for this purpose.

The Navy Department denies positively that any American naval officers were aboard the Japanese ships in the fighting at Port Arthur. It is said that our Government requested permission of both Russia and Japan to place an American naval officer with each of the fleets, not as a combatant, but purely in the capacity of an observer. While neither power refused the request outright, still they did not accede.

The War Department is having equally

HAY'S NOTE IS DISCUSSED.

RUSSIA AND FRANCE BOTH APPROVE SUGGESTION.

PARIS, February 15.—The Foreign Office today confirmed the accounts in the despatches Saturday that Russia and France had approved the United States note on the subject of Chinese neutrality with a reservation excluding Manchuria.

The success of the American initiative to secure the neutrality of China and the limit to Korea of the operations continues to observe official and diplomatic attention, the results effected being considered paramount to actual war operations.

It is said that the second American note and the various replies will constitute an accord of the Powers without signing a further agreement.

The American officials here expect Russia to issue a declaration similar to the Japanese, favoring the principles of the accord by the French Foreign Office, understands that Russia's brief approval already given constitutes Russia's response.

The general view, including that of the American officials, is that the accord will prove of inestimable benefit in limiting the conflict strictly to Russia and Japan, thus keeping out Great Britain, France, China and all other Powers, and also circumscribing the zone of the conflict.

This view, however, is not universally accepted, certain higher sources holding that Russia received benefit by the direct admission of the Powers, that the time that Manchuria is to be treated differently from the rest of China. The American answer to this is that Manchuria is excluded from the accord merely because actual war operations are proceeding there, but there is reason to believe that Russia attaches much importance to the Powers excepting Manchuria from the accord dealing with China.

The only advice received here concerning the operations in the field show the gradual concentration of Russian and Japanese troops near the Yalu river.

RUSSIAN SQUADRON IS IN SIGHT.

TOKIO, Saturday, February 13.—The Russian Vladivostok squadron is still in sight, cruising in the sea of Japan. A report to the effect that Matsushima, on the inland sea, has been bombarded by the Russian squadron, is untrue.

MOBILIZING THE JAPANESE ARMY.

Many Auxiliary Cruisers Are Being Fitted Out By the Mikado's Men.

SHANGHAI, February 15.—The mobilization of the Japanese army has been carried out methodically. It is estimated that 300,000 troops are now ready to be placed in the field, without impairing the national defenses. The movements of the troops are shrouded in secrecy. They are being moved at night toward their bases at Sassho, Kure Moji and Inokusuku and the lights of ordinary trains are extinguished when in the neighborhood of troop trains.

Members of the reserve force immediately step into the places of the outgoing regulars. Their organization is perfect and a full equipment is ready for each one of the reserve.

AUXILIARY CRUISERS.

Hundreds of hotels, tea houses and temples have been requisitioned in Tokyo and other divisional centers. All the steamers of Japanese merchant lines are being rapidly converted into auxiliary cruisers, armed with quick-firing guns and fitted with torpedo tubes.

The government officials refuse to give out any information regarding their military intentions. They expect to profit by dissensions in the Russian council of state. It is believed that the extraordinary powers conferred on Viceroy Alexieff will lead to a clash between Foreign Minister Lamsdorff and General Kuropatkin, especially as the latter is unfriendly to Alexieff. The result of a disagreement between these two Russian leaders is expected here to end a military muddle.

The Japanese are convinced that the Russians will be unable to concentrate and maintain 50,000 troops at any important point of military operations.

DYNAMITE RAILROAD.

There is much talk current in regard to the possible dynamiting of the Russian railroad in Manchuria. Thousands of Japanese, who are practically undistinguishable Chinese, are working in Manchuria, and would willingly risk their lives to aid their country's cause.

A large body of troops is due in Nagasaki on Saturday to embark on transports for Korea.

A protective boom of mines has been placed about the entrance of Nagasaki harbor. Yokohama is also guarded by mines.

Several Russian merchant vessels which have been captured and have been held as prizes have been taken to Sasebo, where they are well guarded. All passing steamers are closely inspected by a flotilla of torpedo boats.

Nine transports fitted with stables on their decks were lying at Moji on Saturday, February 13th.

RUSSIAN MINISTER MUST WITHDRAW.

Japanese Request Him to Retire From Seoul—He Is Guarded By the Enemy.

SEOUL, Wednesday, February 10.—The Russian Consul at Chemulpo is now guarded by Japanese troops.

Today all the other Russians in the city have been ordered into one apartment house where they will be detained awaiting action of the authorities in regard to their disposal. The Russian Minister at Seoul has been requested by the Japanese Minister through a neutral legation to withdraw, and he has consented to do so.

It will probably leave Seoul tomorrow.

There are now on board the French cruiser Paschal 214 Russians of whom two commanders, 14 officers and 31 men are wounded. Six wounded men have already died. It is now known that the Russian cruiser Varig had forty men and one officer, a Count, killed during the recent engagement off Chemulpo. This officer was a midshipman named Nyon and not Muro as stated erroneously in a previous dispatch. The Varig had 64 men wounded, and among them was Captain Rudoff, who was in command of the cruiser.

His wounds are not considered serious. The Russian dead with one exception of the young officer who fell on the bridge, were locked up in the cabin when the Varig went down.

The passengers and crew of the Sun-haric have been taken aboard the Paschal.

The Korean telegraph lines have been cut in all directions.

Several men were seen on board the Koriet, it is said, an instant before she blew up.

The Commissioner of Customs at Chemulpo has protested against an alleged breach of neutrality on the part of the Japanese.

The Russians assert that the Japanese fired first, dispatching two torpedoes at the Koriet when she tried to leave the harbor on the 11th.

The Japanese claim in turn that the Koriet fired first.

There is no news of the arrival of any more Russian troops in Korean territory and Seoul remains quiet.

The Japanese have demanded the use of several Government buildings in this city to be used as barracks for the troops.

On the English and Italian cruisers are a number of Russian refugees, just how many is not known. Only the wounded are on the British vessel.

BRITAIN MAKES DENIAL.

DID NOT GIVE THE JAPANESE THE USE OF WEI-HAI-WEI.

LONDON, February 15.—Foreign Minister Lansdowne announced in the House of Lords today that he had received a cable message from the Commander-in-Chief of the Chinese station giving an absolute denial of the report that the Japanese fleet had been allowed to use Wei Hai Wei as a base of operations against Port Arthur.

The commander-in-chief added: "Wei Hai Wei did not know operations were proceeding until I notified them. In fact, Wei Hai Wei's first direct knowledge of belligerent proceedings was the visit of the steamer Fuying to report the circumstances of her being fired on when leaving Port Arthur."

EMPEROR WILLIAM IS NOT ILL.

BERLIN, February 15.—The rumors circulated regarding the alleged illness of Emperor William are absolutely unfounded. He went out this morning, visited Chancellor von Buelow and transacted the usual state business.

SENATOR HANNA DIED THIS AFTERNOON.

SENATOR HANNA.
WASHINGTON, FEB. 15.—HANNA IS DEAD.

WASHINGTON, February 15.—It is believed Senator Hanna is dying.

Since 4 o'clock this morning the distinguished patient steadily failed and all efforts to rouse him were without effect. The sinking spell, which commenced early in the morning and which recurred later in the day, had so weakened the patient that all hope for his recovery was abandoned and it was then realized that he could last but a short while longer. The crisis came this morning when, shortly after 3 o'clock, the Senator had another sinking spell. Doctors Osler and Fletcher were hurriedly summoned and together with Dr. Carter worked over him for nearly an hour. Not responding to their efforts, Dr. Hanna was notified of the serious turn in his father's condition. A consultation followed and it was decided to awaken the entire family. The physicians stated that since Friday afternoon Mr. Hanna has been practically unconscious. At 8 o'clock the usual hour for the morning bulletin, the Senator was steadily sinking. The official bulletin read as follows:

WASHINGTON, February 15.—2:35 p. m. A bulletin from the sickroom at 2:30 p. m. reads:

"Senator Hanna is sinking slowly. Respiration 50; pulse scarcely perceptible."

(Signed) "RILEY, OSLER, CARTER."

The Senator's temperature was not taken. Dr. Osler has returned from Baltimore and expects to remain at the bedside until the end.

Since the morning bulletin was issued by the doctors, all tidings from the sick room were of the same tenor—that the patient was slowly sinking and steadily growing weaker and that life was only being prolonged by injections of oxygen.

The members of the family who were hastily summoned to the bedside early this morning remained close by since, coming and going from the Senator's room to the sick chamber. The strain has been a severe tax. There was a constant stream of callers at the Arlington all morning anxiously inquiring for the Senator's condition.

Secretary Hay arrived about 9 o'clock and was shown to the private apartments where H. M. Hanna, the Senator's brother, advised him of the patient's condition. Telephone connection was established with the White House early this morning and all bulletins were promptly telephoned to the President.

Shortly before 12 o'clock a messenger came hurriedly from the private apartments, asking for Mr. Dover. At 12:47 Mr. Dover came from the sick room and announced to the newspaper men that about fifteen minutes before the pulse could scarcely be detected. The family was again summoned post-haste to the bedside. It was thought then that only a minute or two remained.

Dr. Carter, who was sleeping in a room nearby, was called and with Dr. Fletcher once more resorted to extreme remedies. Two tanks of oxygen were hurried into the room and oxygen was promptly applied. This was followed by the administration of a saline solution. A pulse heat was then perceptible, but the action and respiration was regarded as artificial. Dr. Rixey joined the two physicians at the bedside and about 1 o'clock Dr. Osler returned from Baltimore and announced that he would remain. One of the doctors subsequently said that at 12 o'clock the termination was expected within a few minutes.

At 9:30 a. m. Dr. Rixey left and half an hour later Dr. Osler went to Baltimore, leaving Dr. Fletcher in charge of the patient. He continued the application of the heroic methods employed in the struggle to prolong life.

Governor Herlick of Ohio and other close personal friends of the Senator plied the doctors with questions, hoping to extract some ray of hope from their replies, but no encouragement could be given.

Among those calling at the hotel this morning were Secretaries Hitchcock and Taft, Senators Foraker, Aldrich, Spaulding and Hale and Justice Day of the United States Supreme Court. Senators Scott and Kitchridge and general Dick who were among those to arrive during the early morning hours, remained at the hotel throughout the morning.

Mrs. Hanna, who had remained at the bedside or in the room adjoining the Senator's since early morning, temporarily withdrew at 11:45 She has held up under the ordeal remarkably well. At that hour Mr. Dover announced.

RUSSIAN VIEW OF BATTLE JAPS COMPLAIN OF ILL TREATMENT. ELEVEN SHIPS WERE STRUCK NEUTRAL SHIPS ARE RELEASED. AT PORT ARTHUR. BY JAPANESE.

Japanese Ships Are Said to Have Gone Down After the Big Fight. Declare That Prisoners Were Cruelly Beaten By the Russians. Many Dead Were Landed From the Russian Vessels.

LONDON, February 15.—The correspondent of the Associated Press at St. Petersburg cables as follows: The first unofficial account of the battle off Port Arthur on Tuesday last has been received in a telegram dated February 14. It is as follows: "At half past one the Japanese squadron of fifteen vessels began the bombardment of Port Arthur. Our squadron and fortress replied and the battle lasted forty minutes. "The Japanese squadron could not stand the well-placed first fire of our fleet and forts and began a rapid retreat. The Japanese flagship was seriously damaged and, according to the testimony of an eye-witness, five other Japanese ships were considerably injured. Boats belonging to the port report that they saw two Japanese ships sinking at sea. "Our losses amounted to two officers wounded, one so slightly that he continued fighting; six men killed and fifty-four wounded. In the forts two men were slightly wounded. The bombardment of the forts and the town did not damage but frightened the populace. At intervals during the night firing was heard at sea. "The despatch adds that the temper of the army and navy is excellent and that the bulletins circulated by the Navy have begun to tranquillize the people. No attempts have been made by the Japanese to land on the Kwang Tung peninsula. "The reports to the ships damaged by the torpedo attack are proceeding rapidly.

NEW CHWANG, February 15.—There are numerous Japanese complaints of Russian ill-treatment. It is reported 400 Japanese refugees from Harbin and elsewhere who arrived at Mukden February 10 were arrested and many of them were severely beaten and detained until they purchased their release. When they were liberated the Japanese were sent in open trucks to Tai Hai Chow, where they were again maltreated and sent on to Port Arthur. Some of their women were sent to New Chwang. Consul Miller took the women under his protection and sent them to Shan Kwei Kwan. Mr. Miller protested to the civil administration of the cruel treatment of the Japanese refugees and requested a census of all Japanese transported to Port Arthur. The Consul himself was menaced by a Cossack without provocation and the officer commanding at New Chwang expressed his regrets and promised to punish the Cossack severely. The civil administration promised to afford better protection to the refugees. Independent naval officers say the Russian fleet was badly damaged in the battle off Port Arthur. They say the Russian land forces are demoralized. They are trying to watch the entire coast. The officers of the Russian gunboat Sivuchik, at New Chwang, declared they are prepared to blow up their vessel in case of danger. They are employing a searchlight all night long over the surrounding plains. Admiral Alexieff has forbidden all ships to enter any of the ports of the Tung Tung peninsula. It is said their object is to carry out the defense of the harbor which has been neglected. Foreigners are not permitted to move without military permission. A few Japanese missionaries at Mukden, apprehending a Chinese outbreak, are sending the missionaries with their families away. The reports that Japanese ships have been seen using searchlights off New Chwang and off the coast near Minshu are entirely untrue. There are about 2000 troops now at New Chwang.

CHE FOO, February 15.—The steamer Wenchow, arriving from Port Arthur, reports that eleven Russian ships were struck in Wednesday's engagement. It is stated that the cruiser Askold, with a big hole at the water-line, has been towed into the inner basin and beached. The battleship Sebastopol has a shell hole just above the water-line and is useless in rough weather. The cruiser Novik has a hole in her after port side. The battleship Retzian is on the beach and her bottom has fallen out. The cruiser Pallada was torpedoed about the engine-room. The battleship Cesarevitch, which was also torpedoed, has been docked. The others were chiefly damaged in their upper works. The whole fleet has been taken into the inner harbor and Port Arthur is depending for protection on her forts which have been reinforced. There is frequent firing, which is presumably drawn by Japanese torpedo boats. Firing was heard at midnight February 11th, at intervals, also on the nights of the 12th and 13th. On February 14th the firing continued until 6 o'clock in the afternoon. An eye-witness claims to have seen eighteen dead landed from the Russian ships Wednesday. It is understood that Admiral Stark has been reduced for his failure to repulse the Japanese attack. The cruiser YINGKOW, Sunday, February 14.—The administrative authorities at Port Arthur have formally notified the American and British Consuls there of the release of neutral ships which had been seized. Both consuls have asked for explanations. The civil administration of Port Arthur has intimated that Viceroy Alexieff will not recognize the consuls in matters relating to Port Arthur and Manchuria. The Russians are commandeering supplies at New Chwang and the Chinese are alarmed and are closing their shops and placing their possessions under foreign protection. Russian residents of New Chwang, fearing that the army will be unable to protect them and their property, are depositing their treasure under the jurisdiction of foreign flags.

CZAR IS IN A RAGE. DOES NOT LIKE THE WAY NEWS HAS BEEN HANDLED. DUKES MARRIES DAUGHTER OF A LORD IN LONDON.

NEW YORK, February 15.—International matters are assuming a very serious aspect, according to a Herald despatch from St. Petersburg. One of the most serious bits of news at this moment is the alleged confirmation of the statement that at least the Japanese vessels of war attacking Port Arthur were a number of American naval officers. This report has caused something akin to a feeling of consternation among the Russian officers. The Emperor has issued the strongest orders, whatever the despatch, that no news whatsoever be communicated, or he is deeply annoyed at the attitude recently adopted by the Russian press of writing upon the political situation in a way calculated to raise enmity toward Russia by England and also very specially America. For instance, the St. Petersburg Gazette has been prohibited from publishing false news about the war, but because of an accompanying article declared to have been highly insulting to England. The Emperor is said to have decided that no details of news are to be given out except upon matters of major importance, that is to say, of the engagement with that all kinds of small affairs shall be given undue importance. It is definitely stated that General Kuropatkin has resigned his position as Minister of War and will be given an appointment as Governor of Turkestan. According to a telegram from Moscow, one of those dreaded statements that terrorize Lake Balkh has broken out, most unfortunately, just at the moment when the rains were being laid over the ice. A double rupture of the ice has taken place some versts from Tashkent, on the eastern side, leaving open gaps of several yards, which will have to be filled up with ice blocks. The work has been interrupted some days with wood sleepers are still missing, his stocks at Irkutsk having been employed in consolidating the railway there.

INTENSE WAR FEELING. TORCHLIGHT PROCESSION IN HONOR OF JAPANESE VICTORIES. POSTMASTER GENERAL PAYNE WILL DO WORK TEMPORARILY.

SHANGHAI, February 15.—Advices from Nagasaki, dated Friday, February 12, state that absolute reticence is maintained by the government. An intense war feeling prevails among all classes, although there is an apparent absence of excitement. Among the striking features of the situation are the strict censorship which is exercised over all cables and the close concealment of military and naval movements. It has been the government's policy to have the news of naval conflicts come as a complete surprise. The Japanese themselves did not know the destination of their warships. The news of Japanese successes has caused suppressed exultation. The only demonstrations have been made by newspapers wearing bells, who are constantly surging through the streets with "Exultate," which are frequently issued by the papers. These are eagerly read and occasional shouts of hallelujah, the Japanese hurrahs are heard. A torchlight procession in honor of the Japanese triumphs was called for Wednesday evening in Nagasaki where there is a large colony of Russians. When the Japanese began to assemble with lanterns the police intervened and dispersed the crowd without the occurrence of any disorder. The Russians in Japan are not terrified by the situation but nevertheless, acting on the advice of their consuls, they have begun a general exodus.

Senator Hanna is slowly dying. He has been in bed for several days. His condition is very serious. He is unable to move and is in great pain. His family is by his side, and he is surrounded by friends and relatives. The doctors are doing all they can to help him, but his condition is not improving.

FOREIGNERS ARE TOLD TO LEAVE. YINGKOW, Thursday, February 11.—In consequence of the attack by the Japanese upon Port Arthur, Viceroy Alexieff has ordered all foreigners and civilians to leave that place. The families of the Russian officers in Manchuria are being sent to Russia and this is causing great pressure upon the railway. Many are the first place to be deserted. These non-combatants and civilians have abandoned all their property at Port Arthur and Dalian.

SAYS PROFESSORS ARE COLD. BERKELEY, February 15.—That there is a growing indifference among the professors and students at the State University is the declaration made by Editor-in-chief Arthur A. Halloran in today's issue of the Journal of Technology, a student publication. The young editor declares that some of the professors fail to recognize their pupils on the street, even after four years of contact. He attributes this, in a measure, to the largeness of the classes, saying in part: "While the Journal of Technology has always been optimistic with regard to the advantages of this greater University of California, yet, in order to remain so in the future, there is one pernicious tendency of our growth that must be checked. We refer to the apparent lack of comradeship and friendship between our students and their instructors. Let it not be thought that such a deplorable condition of affairs exists at the University to any great extent today, but unless some immediate means be taken to exterminate it this blight will soon rest upon us. In spite of such disadvantages, the students are not to be discouraged. They are to be encouraged to be a very short time nevertheless remember each of them long after they have left their classes, thereby gaining their good will and respect. In marked contrast to this is the professor who has studied under him for four years, not even noticing his bow."

ENGLAND MOVES WITH GREAT CARE. LONDON, February 15.—Answering a question in the House today as to whether the British government was taking steps to secure an arrangement for the neutralization of New Chwang during the war, Lord Grey, Secretary for War, replied that it is the government's policy not to consider it to be practicable to neutralize any territory in the actual occupation of either of the belligerents. Home Secretary Asquith, replying to a question, confirmed the Associated Press dispatch, announced that the British government not only had been approached with a suggestion that it could consent to the Russian fleet's use of the port, but there was no reason whatever for supposing that Russia contemplated such a violation of her treaty obligations to the European powers.

WANTS TO BREAK FROM RUSSIA. PARIS, February 15.—M. Jaures, leader of the Socialist party (which holds the balance of power in Parliament), until recently Vice-president of the Chamber, has made a declaration contemplating the immediate denunciation of the Franco-Russian alliance, which has attracted great deal of attention in diplomatic circles.

HE PRAYS FOR SENATOR HANNA. WASHINGTON, February 15.—In his prayer opening the Senate today the chaplain referred to both the critical condition of Senator Hanna and the Oriental war. "We ask Thee," he said, "to consecrate to us this day the house of death and consecrate to us the lessons of life." Immediately after the conclusion of the prayer, the Senate, on motion of Mr. Cullom, went into executive session. The doors were reopened at 12:35 o'clock and legislative business proceeded with.

STOCK MARKET. SAN FRANCISCO, February 15.—The following stock quotations up to noon today are furnished by Sutro & Co., of 321 Montgomery street:

JAPANESE ARE UNDER ARREST. NEW CHWANG, Sunday, February 14.—About fifty Japanese men on their way to Chien Tsin were arrested at Tai Hai Chow February 12 with their women and children. The Japanese Consul, Henry T. Miller, procured the release of the women, but Viceroy Alexieff ordered their re-arrest and transportation, together with all the Japanese in Manchuria, to Port Arthur. Mr. Miller based his action on assurances the Russians gave him that the Consul that all Japanese subjects would be protected and permitted to leave when they desired.

GRIFFITH TRIAL RESUMED. LOS ANGELES, February 15.—The trial of Colonel Griffith J. Griffith, the well known Los Angeles capitalist and reputed millionaire, on a charge of assault and attempted murder for having shot his wife in the eye with a revolver in their room at the Hotel Arcade, Santa Monica, on the 3d of last September, was called this morning in Judge Smith's division of the Superior Court. The case gives every promise of being a hard fought one on both sides. Colonel Griffith is defended by the law firm of Rogers & Brown, and District Attorney Fredricks is being assisted in the prosecution by ex-Governor Gage and Attorney Isadore Dockweiler. The work of impaneling a jury is now in progress.

The application will be heard February 22d. Both companies last week reinsured their risks not affected by the fire in outside companies.

WHEAT TOUCHES DOLLAR MARK. NEW YORK, February 15.—Wheat touched the dollar mark here today for the first time since June 1898, after the latter corner. Corn and oats rose in sympathy, but coffee and cotton broke heavily. There has been a rise of 7 1/2 a bushel in the price of wheat since January.

MEXICAN DOLLAR JUMPS TWO POINTS. WASHINGTON, February 15.—The Insular Bureau of the War Department informed that the value of the Mexican dollar at Hongkong today is 48 1/4 cents a jump of two points since Saturday noon. This places the coin on a practical parity with our own silver Philippine peso. The Mexican dollar has practically advanced from 46 cents to its present figure within a year. This last increase is explained by the fact that the war has caused a heavy drain, Japanese and Chinese merchants converting much of the stock into cash to be prepared for emergencies. The result is expected to be the practical extinction of the Mexican dollar in the Philippines, an object very much desired by the Insular Department, as it will keep them out of the islands, once they are drawn.

FRANCHISE GRANTED. SAN JOSE, February 15.—The Board of Supervisors today granted a franchise to the San Jose and Alviso Electric Railway Company for right of way over a short portion of the Alviso highway, at the northern limit of the city. The company now has all the franchises asked for, and announces that it will begin preparations at once for constructing the road.

MRS. JANE STANFORD ANSWERS

Tells Why She Refuses to Pay a Sculptor.

SAN JOSE, Cal., February 15.—Mrs. Jane E. Stanford today filed an answer in the two suits recently brought against her by sculptor Rupert Schmid, the one to recover $19,000 alleged to be due for extra work and material on the Freize of the memorial arch at Stanford University, the other for $1500 for three portrait busts.

Mrs. Stanford makes general denial to the first complaint and sets up that as the figures on the Freize were one foot less in height than the contract called for, the sculptor made $1000 above the contract price because of this fact.

As to the busts, she alleges that they were not executed by her order.

WASHINGTON, February 15.—Secretary Dyer said the sick room at 5:32 p. m. He said Mr. Hanna was weaker than he had been when he saw him an hour before. The patient's pulse is not perceptible at the wrist and his heart action is faint. He has taken no nourishment since morning.

An effort was made this afternoon to give him nourishment, but his stomach would not retain it.

Late this afternoon Mrs. Roosevelt called at the private apartments of the Hanna family. She had a few minutes' conversation with Mrs. Dan R. Hanna.

NO USE FOR THIS WORLD.

Harry R. Williar Jr. Dies By the Gas Route.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 15.—Harry R. Williar Jr., son of the prominent broker, living in Sausalito, committed suicide last evening at the Florence lodging-house on Powell and Ellis streets by inhaling gas.

Despondency over financial neglect, caused by a sensitive disposition is assigned as the motive for the boy's rash act. In a letter left he deprecates the sorrow which his wanton deeds have caused his father to lose patience with him.

Mr. Williar, the father, and a sister of the young man, are prostrated with grief at the calamity which has befallen them. The news of the son's death reached the family just as a number of friends were gathered at the house to spend the evening. Anticipated pleasure on the part of the guests was quickly turned to sentiments of regret and sympathy for the bereaved family.

The letter left to the public by Williar reads as follows:
"I am going to kill myself tonight or else make a damned good attempt to do so, simply because I am of no use in this world and do nothing but bring shame and disgrace to all who care for me—at least, so my father says—and I guess he's right. May God forgive me for this crime; but I feel that it is better to be dead than to disgrace my loving sister, whom I love with all my heart. I wish to beg the proprietor's pardon for committing this deed in his hotel; but I do not know any other place like it that has gas in the rooms, so I trust he'll forgive me."

"I thought this plan all out last night and am resolved to see it through. No one will miss me and the world will be a little better when I am out of it. I leave $9.50 which I am sorry to say will fall to my father's lot to pay. Then I owe my school (Metropolitan Business College) $2 and Ben Jordan personally $2.25 which I hope will be paid as a last favor to a wayward son."

"I love my sickle, sore and weary, but it cannot be helped. My sister cares for me and that is one comfort."

"I love my father and his dance tonight as much as I enjoy myself."

"For my father I wish to say that I am sure he will be happy with me on his hands and nothing to worry him. He had no right to bring me into this world of sin and crime if he had not the patience to put up with me."

"This is my last message to all my friends, no matter who they are. I send affection over to the girls at the office, amongst whom is Marie. To the rest of my friends I want to say and good-bye to do this if it brings any good to them."

"God-bye and God bless and keep my sister forever and ever. H. R. Williar, 214 Pine street, or Sausalito."

LERMEN'S EULOGY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—When the Superior Court adjourned today in San Francisco, it adjourned out of respect to the late W. W. Foote.

Judge Kerigan, John W. Bourdette and J. J. Lermen spoke in eulogy on the late lawyer.

Mr. Lermen spoke as follows: "With great regret I beg leave to announce to you the death of W. W. Foote, a practitioner before the bar of this county for many years. No words of praise from me can add to the fame, good name or the reputation of so eloquent an advocate and so eminent a lawyer."

"He was my friend and associate and while I was ever appreciative of and am still grateful for the many acts of kindness shown to me by him, still I am but one of the very many whom it was ever his delight to help along at a time when they needed it most."

"During my fifteen years of close association with him, he never fell short of the ideal in the practice of the ethics of his profession. His entire life was a living truth, ever finding expression in favor and kindness. His place cannot be filled for there was but one Foote."

"While few have made more money than he in the practice of his profession still for wealth he had a most profound contempt. The bar of this court has lost an honored and honorable member. California has lost one of the makers of her history and her people one of the most trusted servants."

COURTS ADJOURN IN HONOR OF W. W. FOOOTE.

Judges and Lawyers Pay a Tribute to the Memory of Noted Attorney.

The courts of Alameda county adjourned this morning for the day out of respect to the memory of W. W. Foote, who died last Saturday in San Francisco.

Judge Greene made the announcement in his department that the suggestion had been made that such a procedure was proper and right and in which he concurred. He gave notice to the lawyers gathered in his department that the judges sitting in bank would listen to some remarks in keeping with the occasion, and after calling the cases on the calendar and continuing them, adjourned the court.

At 10:00 o'clock Judges Ellsworth, Hall, Greene and Ogden, Judge Melvin being in the East, took their seats in department three. Gathered there were many lawyers, whose work had taken them to the Court House, while the county offices emptied themselves to listen to the remarks made in memory of one who had often practiced in the chamber where the court was then in session.

Judge John Ellsworth, after making the simple announcement of the purpose for which they were assembled, called upon M. C. Chapman, who, visibly affected by the duty he was called upon to perform for one whom he knew intimately, said:

"May it please your honors, it now becomes my sad duty in this place, of his last residence, and amid the somes that knew him so well in which he so often triumphed, to announce to this Court the death of a distinguished member of the bar of this county and of this State, of William W. Foote, in the language of another, has taken the few short steps from the cradle, with its lullaby of love to the lone, quiet, wayside inn, where all at last must sleep, and where the only salutation is 'Good Night.' Yet while friends must mourn and relatives must weep, kind nature that projected us into light and life will one day, if the instinct of man counts for anything, save us from mortality. Mr. Foote was 58 years of age at his death. From the standpoint of infancy and youth fifty-eight years of life seems to stretch out interminably into the future, but as we look backward it is but a flash of light in the night, and then darkness. Mr. Foote was an eminent lawyer. The amount the character, the magnitude and the importance of the litigation in which was professionally engaged, and his uniform success, placed him in the front rank of the bar of this State. In the trial of causes he was impelled by zeal unwonted in other men, and sometimes for the moment angered his antagonist, but the anger and the resentment were only for a moment, because we all knew, notwithstanding his brusqueness that there was in his breast a heart as tender as that of a woman. Last Saturday he died without a pang or pain, passed peacefully away as quietly as though he had gone to sleep, and the tranquility of his death suggests oh how beautiful his death and his sleep."

After asking if any other members of the bar had anything they would like to say, Judge Ellsworth said: "My brethren of the bench have requested me to say a few words on this occasion, and it is with difficulty that I speak. Mr. Foote was known to all of us, although his office was in San Francisco of late years, his home having been in Alameda county; and having much practice in the courts here, we all came to know him both as a lawyer and as a man. Mr. Chapman has spoken in fitting terms of his career and of his character. He possessed some great qualities as a lawyer. There was a vigor and earnestness about his handling of a case in court which, especially with juries, I think, had a wonderful effect. And he was largely successful in his practice. And after all, that is one of the great tests of the question whether a man is a strong lawyer or not, whether in a long career he has been pretty successful or not; and I think it will be admitted that judged by that test Mr. Foote was an eminent lawyer. As a man he was possessed of most lovable qualities, whatever might be the cause of his occasionally mercurial temperament, somewhat mercurial, a man might perhaps temporarily feel aggrieved at Mr. Foote, but it was impossible to know him well without loving him. I doubt whether any member of the bar in this State had more friends who were really personally attached to him and his family than Mr. Foote. He was a striking personality and one who will be missed both from the halls of justice and from the circle of friends, which was large, extending all over the State. It has been suggested that the court adjourn out of respect for Mr. Foote, and that is the order of the court. We will now adjourn for the day out of respect to Mr. Foote."

"CROSSING THE M'KOWEN IS IN BOUNDARY." SAN QUENTIN.

INTERESTING AND INSTRUCTIVE SERMON BY REV. C. R. BROWN.

"Crossing the Boundary Into New Conditions," the first sermon in the series on "The Story of an Ancient Labor Movement," was the subject upon which Rev. Charles R. Brown of the First Congregational Church preached last evening. He said in part:

"When the Israelites crossed the arm of the Red Sea they passed from Africa with its heavy, burdensome, unprogressive civilization on the banks of the Nile, to the free life of Asia, the cradle of all the world's great religions. They crossed from slavery to freedom, from a complex system which puzzled and burdened them, to the simplicity of a life, with which they were competent to deal."

"The whole event is striking in its symbolism. Prophet and psalmist, poet and composer have used it to illustrate the various crises in the later life of the race. When our poor life is burdened and oppressed, when it is driven into a corner from which there seems to be no escape, the voice of God rings out, 'Speak to the children of men that they go forward,' and then in His own wise way. He makes a pathway for them."

"When the children of Israel actually forsook Egypt for the rugged life of the steppes, they were in a position to learn by experience the principles that would enter into an industrial democracy. They would of necessity make blunders. They would fail in many of their undertakings. They would fail in many of their undertakings; they would be guilty of wrong doing; nevertheless, training can only come through facing responsibility and the necessity of suffering the consequences of one's mistakes. But remembering how brief has been their experience in attempting to have a genuine part in the industrial management of the world, we marvel not at the number of their mistakes, but rather that they are so few. And it is altogether right that they should insist upon having more of the spirit of democracy in business management. It is the pathway to the development of a higher type of wage earner. Neither employer nor employee can say, 'This is my business; I will manage it as I please.' They must learn to say, 'This is our business;—for it consumes the life force of both the employing and the wage-earning class—we will manage it together in ways that are equitable to all.'"

"We too have a Red Sea to cross. It is full to the bank, forty fathoms deep, with problems and difficulties. It will require more than a strong east wind all night to make a way through it. On the right hand and on the left, we are shut in by the contending interests of capitalists and laborer. Behind there is the pressure of the horses and chariots of a bargain-hunting public, seeking ever for an abundance of cheap goods produced in a manner that harms the producer. But the God of the Israelites is our God, and if we are willing to be led by the pillar of fire and of cloud, we shall be guided in the solution of all these questions, until every honest toiler shall live and work under conditions that are right."

The use of bacon fat when basting or frying chicken imparts delicate flavor.

W. A. McKown, ex-secretary of the Board of Regents of the University of California, who was convicted of embezzling more than $50,000 of the funds of that institution, left the county jail at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning in the custody of Under-Sheriff Martin, for San Quentin, where he will serve six years and eleven months for his crime.

Upon reaching the prison, McKown was taken into the book room, where he was photographed. A neat suit of blue was taken from him and a black and gray striped suit was given him. His name was shaved and number "20,621" was given him.

Contrary to the expectations of his friends, McKown will not be given a clerical position at the prison, but will have to go to work in the jute mills, the same as his fellows, as "Arden" Campbell was allowed to fill a clerical position until he had at first shown himself deserving of that favor by his work and conduct in the jute mills. McKown began work in the mills this morning.

PLAYS AT THE MACDONOUGH.

WEBER & FIELD'S SALE TODAY CAUSED A LONG LINE AT THEATER.

Among the modern plays classed as melodrama are quite a number and in the front rank of the list stands "Down by the Sea." The classification of this play among melodramas does not imply that it depends upon the continual drawing of knives and pistols to entertain. Such plays as "Shore Acres," "Wagon Wheel" and "In Fact" are plays in which the story involves the ever-interesting passions of love, jealousy, hate and revenge, are melodramas, and the name of melodrama should not be misapplied by comparisons with the unnatural exaggerated clap trap so commonly known by that name. "Down by the Sea" is one of the few high-class melodramas on the stage of the present day. It is healthful in tone, clean in dialogue, teaches a moral lesson. In constructing this drama the playwright did not create but one strong character. He created a center about which all the others should revolve, and by it be overshadowed. He chose rather to picture a group in which each was to play a distinctive part of almost equal prominence and leave it to the actors to make of it a congruous whole. "Down by the Sea" is a happy combination of several popular elements. Its situations are naturally conceived and coherently carried out. Its characters are unique but not grotesque caricatures. Its scenes are surprising, but not impossible nor overdrawn. The scenic effects are said to be most magnificent, and among which are the East Haven light in the storm; the village church at night, illuminated and the great inn at the same time; a number of attractive singing, dancing, and instrumental specialties are introduced, all of which are of a refined and high-class nature. The attraction will be at the Macdonough Theater tonight and tomorrow night.

CRANFORD MUST HANG.

Judge Blackford's court room was packed to suffocation yesterday during the final scenes in the Harry Castle murder trial. The jury after being out two hours adjourned into the court room with the above finding. While the sentence of the court was being pronounced the prisoner's sweet heart swooned away and was carried out of the court room unconscious. During this dramatic scene young Cranford was left high and dry.

This crime for which Arthur Cranford must pay the penalty with his life in a few days was committed in Lenox Park and brought about the death of a woman. It was brought out in the trial that Cranford murdered his sweet heart, Harry Castle, because the woman was in a drunken carousal. How often do we read similar accounts in the papers. How often do we hear of innocent men sent for life to the penitentiary or hanged. The great drama, "Circumstantial Evidence," which will appear at the Macdonough Theater on Wednesday and Thursday, February 17, and 18, tells a story of this character, which every man and woman should read and see to be a lawyer, judge or juror, or a citizen in private life until you have seen this strong dramatic creation. You will better men and women after you have seen it.

GEORGIA MINSTRELS.

When Richards & Pringle's famous Georgia Minstrels appear at the Macdonough Theater on next Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights and Saturday and Sunday matinees, the public will see the most expensive, colored show ever organized. If any doubts of the absolute truthfulness of this statement exists it will be dispelled when the performance is given.

It must be confessed now that there were doubts in the minds of the management about their being able to make the giving of so vast and expensive show with any chance of success. The show is the business ordinarily done by other shows would not have been profitable, and packed houses rule everywhere.

The program is a lengthy one, and made up of great variety. The street parade at night is a novelty, two bands in daily parade.

JAMES AND WARDE.

Louis James and Frederick Warde in elaborate revivals of "Othello" and "Julius Caesar" will be the offerings at the Macdonough Theater on Monday, February 22, matinee and night. It is some years since the distinguished duo have been seen in these standard classics and interest is running high. WEBER & FIELDS.

Sale of seats for the Weber & Fields' engagement, opened at the box office today to the largest line ever seen in Oakland.

Joe Weber and Lou Fields, the heads of the Weber & Fields organization, are numbered among the leading actor-managers of the world. They have been in two theaters in New York—their own music hall on Broadway and the West End Theatre in Harlem. The Globe in Boston, and of a house that is now building in Chicago. They have been successful in many other cities, including Richmond and Wm. Collier. All of which is typically American achievement, when we recall that the two young men—nearly thirty years of age—started out as poor boys doing a song and dance turn in a Chatham Square dime museum. The business of the present season is called, after the same whimsical and meaningless fashion as of yore, "Twenty Whirls." It has made a much more decided hit than their last year's "Twenty Whirls." Louis Mann has joined the company to replace Wm. Collier, and as an attraction.

The house of Weber & Fields occupies a niche in American theatricals that is rarely duplicated elsewhere. Nothing with which to compare it on either side of the Atlantic. The Oakland date is Tuesday, February 23d.

THE GREAT SALE THAT PEOPLE IN THIS CITY TALK ABOUT

It seems that the city and entire State is interested in the great retiring sale of the Pattosien Company's big Furniture House, corner Sixteenth and Mission streets, San Francisco.

In spite of the heavy rain the store was crowded with buyers. The doors had to be closed again on Saturday, because the shipping department was behind in delivering goods. More wagons have been engaged for next week, and the store will be every car can be promised hereafter. It is understood that the sale will hardly last two months longer.

RESIGNS FROM BROTHERS FILE HOUSE. A CONTEST.

FRAUD IS FOUND IN MANY PRECINCTS IN DENVER. NOT SATISFIED WITH THE WILL OF MRS. GERTRUDE HAVENS.

WASHINGTON, February 15.—Representative Shafroth from Denver, Colo. district, voluntarily relinquished his seat in the House at the convening of that body today.

The contest for his seat by Robert W. Bonyne and the examination of ballots, he said, revealed fraud in 29 precincts. If he was a judge on the bench he would have to find against himself and he invited the Elections Committee to present a resolution seating Bonyne. The statement created a sensation and at its conclusion great applause was heard on both sides of the Chamber. Chairman Olmstead of the Elections Committee, considering the case, paid a high tribute to Mr. Shafroth, saying although the action was a surprise, the case showed that the frauds in the election were not chargeable in any way to Mr. Shafroth.

The House immediately agreed to the resolution declaring R. W. Bonyne entitled to the seat from the First Colorado district.

At 12:40 p. m. the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, February 15.—The infant son of Gertrude Goewey Havens, whose death occurred shortly after the birth of her child in Berkeley last April, will not be allowed to enter into the possible possession of the wealth left him by his mother. A contest to the will made by Mrs. Havens upon her deathbed was filed today by her four brothers, in which they allege their sister was not of sound mind at the time she made it.

Two wills made by her are now before the courts. In May, 1902, she made a will which was witnessed by Judge William P. Lawlor of San Francisco and Edw. B. Tullant, Esq., of Oakland, Napa county, which contains the following provisions:

"I give and bequeath to my husband, John W. Havens, the sum of $2000. I give and bequeath to him one-fifth of all my household effects. I give and bequeath to my husband all his presents to me."

She bequeathed the following legacies to the several persons hereafter named: To my friend, Kate Dillon, the sum of $1000, my amethyst ring, my sapphire medallion surrounded by diamonds and my medallion (which I had to my friend, Marie Dillon, the sum of $1000. All the rest, residue and remainder of my personal and personal estate I give, devise and bequeath in equal shares to my four brothers, Charles H. Goewey, Frank S. Goewey, Wm. M. Goewey, and Herbert S. Goewey, their heirs and assigns forever."

After the death and bequest in the event of my husband, John W. Havens, before this will goes to probate, to her first son, the infant son of myself and my said husband, born on the last day of March, 1904, all the property, real, personal and mixed, and all rights and interests in property, or in expectancy which shall belong to me at the time of my death; said property, income and interest to be directed by said trustee to the maintenance, care and education of our said son in such manner as said John W. Havens may deem expedient and proper.

I nominate John W. Havens, my beloved husband, executor of this my last will and testament, and request and direct that no bonds be required of him. I revoke all wills previously made by me.

"Too weak to make her signature, she made her mark, which was witnessed by Ethel Sherman, 330 Fifth street, and Elizabeth M. Cole, 2033 Channing way, Berkeley."

The brothers of the deceased have now come forward to contest the right of the infant to the property left him by his mother. By her first will she left practically her entire estate, by her second they were disinherited. At the time she made her last will she was too weak to write her own name, but upon statement of the attorney in the case, she requested that the will be drawn up by him, and that she be named as testatrix. It will be contended that she was too weak at that time to know what she was doing and that it therefore is null and void.

We Paid $100,000

For Liquezone—Yet We Give You a 50c. Bottle Free.

This Company, after testing Liquezone for two years in the most difficult germ diseases, paid $100,000 for the American rights. That is far the highest price ever paid for similar rights on any scientific discovery.

We publish this fact to show you that the value of Liquezone. Men of our class don't pay a price like that save for a product of remarkable worth to humanity.

Kills Inside Germs

The reason for that price is this: Liquezone alone can kill germs in the body without killing the tissues too. Nothing else in the world is so good for the human body; yet Liquezone is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a germ that it cannot kill.

Liquezone destroys at once and forever the cause of any germ disease. And there is no other way to do it. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is helpless in troubles of this kind.

Not Medicine.

Liquezone is not made by compounding drugs. Its virtues are derived solely from gas, made in large part from the best oxygen producers. By a process requiring immense apparatus and fourteen days' time, this gas is made part of the liquid product. Liquezone has, for more than twenty years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research. The result is a product that does what oxygen does. Oxygen is the very source of all vitality, the most essential element of life. Liquezone is a vitalizing tonic, with which no other known product can compare. Its effects are exhilarating and purifying. But germs are vegetables; and Liquezone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter.

Liquezone goes wherever the blood goes, destroying every germ in the body. In this way it cures diseases which medicine never cures. It will do more for sick humanity than all the drugs in the world combined.

Germ Diseases

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome them, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquezone kills the germs, wherever they are, and the results are inevitable. By destroying the cause of the trouble, it invariably ends the disease, and forever.

Asthma, Anemia, Blood Poison, Bright's Disease, Bowel Troubles, Coughs, Consumption, Colic, Cramp, Constipation, Catarrh—Cancer, Dysentery—Diarrhea, Dropsy, Eczema, Erysipelas, Fevers—Gall Stones, Yellow Fever, Gonorrhea—Gleet, Hay Fever—Influenza, Kidney Diseases, La Grippe, Leucorrhea, Liver Troubles, Malaria, Neuritis, Rheumatism, Stomach Troubles, Throat Troubles, Tuberculosis, Tumors—Ulcers, Varicose Veins, Women's Diseases.

All diseases that begin with fever—all inflammation—all catarrhs—all poisons—all the results of impure or poisoned blood.

In nervous debility Liquezone acts as a vitalizer, accomplishing what no drugs can do.

TELLS OF PERILS OF EDUCATION

REV. T. A. BOYER HANDLES SUBJECT IN AN ABLE MANNER.

"The Perils of Education" was the subject of a sermon preached at the First Christian Church last night by the pastor, Rev. T. A. Boyer. It was the third sermon of a series on "Present Day Perils." He said in substance:

"There is no class in this country from which we expect more than the student class, and yet none that we have imperiled more by our social customs and conditions. Young life always carries with it a certain precariousness; a nervousness, a lack of experience, of discipline that imperils it. This is true even when under the most careful tutelage of home and friends, and yet we expect our young men and women to be stable and people under the most trying conditions of life, and that too with the check-rein off.

"Youth and exuberance are good, so long as they don't degenerate into a species of rowdiness that holds indignation meetings, dictates to school boards and generally speaking, breeds defiance to law.

"Another peril that has come down to us from the past is the utterly foolish idea that collegiate training is not so much a matter of equipment for a better and more ennobling service, as it is an attestation of the fact that a man is a born gentleman and entitled to all the rights and privileges of a born gentleman, first among which is exemption from all the work and warfare of life, other than that which ministers unto his personal pleasure and vanity. This idea manifests itself first about the eighth grade, when we begin to hear of calling our boys and girls William and John and Mary and begin to call them Mr. and Miss. All true education is a sharpening of the faculties for more effective service, and whenever a man begins to find himself harboring the idea that his superior kind of talent is too cerebral for this mundane sphere he needs to send for a doctor right away.

"A peril of still greater importance is that which manifests itself in what has been termed our 'Lock-step' system of education. The pupil must keep step, there must be no piping out of time. By-paths for personal investigation are out of the question. Scholars go in as dough and come out as crackers with new holes in the head and a great mind for mathematics and a great stomach for recitation at the same time.

"The age of Elizabeth in England, the age of Shakespeare and Ben Jonson, was a golden age, the core, Aaron Burr and 'Bos' Tweed—many of the most successful manipulators of Barbary Coast—are bright men. The fact of the matter is, however, important and indispensable, in all matters of science, sociology, philosophy and religion, as are the elements that huddle in the region of the hat hand, they are secondary to those that huddle in the region of the heart.

"Every fact that has enlightened; even a reform that has lifted into closer touch with God, the toiling, struggling human race, will be found on final analysis to be an emanation from the heart.

A Vile Disease

Contagious Blood Poison has wrecked more lives and caused more misery and suffering than all other diseases combined. Some are inclined to treat it lightly, but these soon learn that they have to deal with a powerful poison that is slowly but surely breaking down the constitution. Contagious Blood Poison not only inflicts punishment to the one who contracts it, but others may become innocent victims of this vile disease through inheritance. If your blood is tainted you may live to see your children battling with the same disease—few bottles cured me permanently. I also contracted it, made miserable by disgusting sores and improved in every way. 2508 Perryville Ave. Allegheny City, Pa.

For years I was troubled with the most malignant type of chronic trouble. After trying various other remedies without getting any benefit, I was induced by a friend who was cured of a similar blood-poison to take S. S. S. A few bottles cured me permanently. MANY PRIZES AWARDED TO THE SUCCESSFUL GUESTS.

ALAMEDA, February 15.—The whist tournament given in the City Hall Saturday night by Thompson House Company, No. 1, for the benefit of the Alameda Volunteer Fire Department was the biggest affair of the kind ever given in this county, one hundred and fifty tables being employed at one time.

Fifteen hands were played. It was also the first card tournament ever attempted by the firemen, and many ladies prominent in the social circles acted as patronesses, while a host of pretty young girls were scorers. A handsome sum was netted to secure new accommodations for the company.

One hundred prizes were awarded the winners in their order, being: Mrs. Durell, Mrs. Lawson, Mrs. Busch, Mrs. J. C. Wright, Mrs. F. Maybach, Miss F. Schroeder, Mrs. F. Wagner, Miss J. Halton, Mrs. C. "The individual in order to render the most effective service, must work along the line of least resistance, use the talents that are God-given. Under the present system, however, the special talents are often suppressed as they are developed. The pupil must keep step, there must be no piping out of time. By-paths for personal investigation are out of the question. Scholars go in as dough and come out as crackers with new holes in the head and a great mind for mathematics and a great stomach for recitation at the same time.

"In passing from manhood's morning toward high noon, none are comparable to the peril of a half education; a bird with one wing flies round and round, a man who develops his intellect and neglects his heart is only a half man. This is an age in which brains are strongly to the fore. The man we applaud is the man who thinks. We are inundated against sentiment to be audent as great an offense as to be unsophisticated. It is all right to know but it is better to be a builder of something. Pure brain is pure idealism, a man may have a great mind for mathematics and a great stomach for recitation at the same time.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE
Tribune Publishing Company, William E. Dargie, President.

WILLIAM WINTER FOOTE,

A strong individuality has passed away in William Winter Foote. His was a picturesque personality in politics and the legal profession, and his like will not be seen again. He will be mourned as well as missed, for "Billy" Foote had the gift of inspiring friendship to a remarkable degree. His own friendships were frank, loyal and warm, and free from sordidness or fawning. He would have addressed the Jehovah as an equal.

He was a man of contradictions; aggressive, yet tender hearted; positive to obstinacy, yet confiding to a singular degree; censorious in speech, but in conduct the most tolerant and charitable of men. He was fond of a certain kind of contention that inspired rough humor but no malice, which left only good will behind it. Profane of speech he possessed a deep vein of devotional feeling which he revealed to few, even of his closest intimates. He was impulsive to rashness, yet holding fast to his convictions and unchanging in his friendships. He was without fear, and his bitterest foe could always disarm his enmity by an appeal to his generosity. He turned the edge of all animosities by a rollicking humor, a contagious good fellowship, as spontaneous as it was inimitable. He was never a good fellow on occasion—he was the same "Billy" Foote all the time, a species peculiar to himself, with characteristics as wayward as the wanton wind and moods as contradictory as April weather.

Such was William Winter Foote, a man of grave faults, but many virtues—virtues that were so manly and noble that while they made the blemishes conspicuous they made them insignificant by comparison. Men and women loved him. He also earned that which he detested most, flattery. He loathed a sycophant and was impacably intolerant of toadyism; yet he could not resist appeals of distress that he knew were simulated, and his hand was ever open to assist men that he despised but who played upon a trait of his character that amounted to a lovable weakness.

Colonel Foote was not one of those who believed his friends could do no wrong and his enemies no right, but he was for his friends right or wrong. His loyalty never questioned the merits of a controversy, and his friendship was not of the kind that was regretfully critical of its objects. He would rather be wrong and be with his friends than be right and be with his enemies. Yet it was one of the contradictions of his life and character that he, an intense Democrat, found his closest intimates and warmest friends among men equally active and positive in their Republicanism. A soldier in the Confederate army, and idolizing the leaders of the Confederacy, he had a host of friends among the veterans who wore the blue. Every time he came before the people as a candidate for office, he counted among his most enthusiastic supporters Republicans and Grand Army veterans. His popularity among his Civil War antagonists was shown by his selection by a Grand Army post at Bakersfield to deliver an address last Memorial Day. His last public appearance was at a reunion of Confederate veterans at Colusa. His speech on that occasion was a replica of his address to the Union veterans at Bakersfield, breathing the loftiest patriotism and the warmest fraternal feeling. The two addresses constitute a splendid memorial to the man himself, illustrative of his generous character and the breadth of his patriotic devotion.

Of Colonel Foote's abilities as a lawyer, it is unnecessary to speak. For thirty years he has ranked among the foremost trial lawyers in California, as his connection with nearly every large case testifies. His success as a criminal lawyer was phenomenal. He was leading counsel for the defense in many of the most sensational cases ever tried in this State, and he has the remarkable distinction of never having had a client hanged and only one charged with murder convicted. He had the faculty of investing criminals with something of his contagious popularity. It was said that juries voted to please Foote.

Take him all in all, William Winter Foote was a rare genius, a lovable man, a gallant soldier, a true friend, a generous enemy and a genial companion. He is dead before he has grown old, fallen into the grave ere age had chilled the fires of the soul or staled life's pleasures. Yet he had borne a man's part for more than forty years—a soldier at sixteen and a distinguished lawyer at thirty—he ends at fifty-eight a life crowded with incident and adventure, having been in all the lines of his activity—soldier, editor, lawyer, politician—a magnetic and forceful leader. Among his contemporaries there was no figure so striking, no personality so unique, no type more bizarre, no individuality more marked.

Few men will leave so many sincere friends to cherish his memory or so many of mere acquaintances to lament his passing. He was the product of an age that has passed, of a society that has ceased to exist.

Not a drop of the recent rain that drenched all California north of Tehachapi fell in Southern California. The fact may be instructive to the clergy who tried to break the drought with the prayer cure. We can hardly take it as a reflection on the piety of our Southern brethren, but it is certainly suggestive that rain fell where it was not prayed for and failed to fall where prayers were offered up for its descent. Perhaps prayer has no effect on meteorological conditions. The presumption that the weather clerk has been dozing on his watch and neglecting to turn on the water at the right time until reminded of the dereliction by the prayers of the righteous, may be a primitive notion that takes no account of the ordering of the universe on lines that do not deviate for local crop exigency. The deity may be wiser than His earthly advisers. It would be invidious to suggest that He respects the respectful intimation that He is neglecting His business and allowing an injustice to be done.

The people of Los Angeles are great. While the preachers down there are praying for rain, the newspapers are boasting of the nice dry weather they are having. If this is not making the best of things, we fail to understand the meaning of the term.

Admiral Alexieff is now prepared to endorse General Sherman's dictum that war is hell.

Russia is now beginning to realize the imminence of "the yellow peril."

The proposition to take water from the Tuolumne river with which to supply San Francisco has developed antagonism in the interior, and Congressmen Gillette and Needham propose to fight it. Lake Eleanor, the point of diversion, is in Gillette's district and the waters of the Tuolumne are extensively used in Needham's district for irrigation. A large area in Gillette's district is also susceptible to irrigation from this source. It is claimed by the landowners in the watershed of the Tuolumne that all the waters of that stream will ultimately be required to irrigate and fructify the lands along its course. Hence they are opposed to any diversion to San Francisco. This raises a question that is not an issue in sections where irrigation is not an important adjunct to agriculture. The proposed diversion cannot take place unless Congress passes the act prepared by the San Francisco authorities granting the necessary permission. Gillette and Needham will fight the bill in the interest of their constituents.

The members of the Board of Trade excursion to Los Angeles have resolved themselves into a boosters club for Oakland. That is what THE TRIBUNE expected they would do when it suggested the excursion.

Because our prisons contain so many convicts it is frequently asserted that California produces an abnormally large proportion of criminals. But this is an erroneous assumption. A large proportion of the inmates in our State prisons are recent arrivals who cannot claim to be residents of California. That fact was illustrated in Judge Hall's court last Friday. Out of six men coming up for sentence, four had just come into the State. Only two were properly residents of California, and one of these was a foreigner who had been here only a few years.

"One professor may be selected because he has red hair, and the temperamental which that represents. Another may be chosen because he is a blonde," etc.—Dr. Harper.

There's Jones—he has a leading chair. Because he also has red hair. It seems his tresses all of gold. Show what a brain his head must hold.

And so his is a lucky fate—His salary is something great. And he will always hold his chair—I wish that I possessed red hair!

Then there is young Professor Smith—Black hair his head is covered with. The carbon in his hair, we learn, Shows that he has wise thoughts to burn.

And consequently he will be Paid an enormous salary. But I have always been held back—I wish that I had hair of black!

And Muggs and Muggs—two common blondes—Are clipping coupons off of bonds because what a lot of things they knew.

Good fortune falls at their feet—They'll always be on Easy Street. How many times I have dogged them The luck that I am not a blonde!

Alas! If I were even gray! You see, my hair refused to stay given my arching gratification. And so on colleges say "Come," To no impressive chair I'm called because I'm shiny, glossy, blond!

Ah, if it were not infra dig, I'd get a job—I'd buy a wig!—W. D. N. In The Chicago Tribune.

LESSONS LEARNED BY THE TRIP SOUTH.

Suggestions Made by the Oakland People for Betterments—Excur- sionists Returning Home.

LOS ANGELES, February 15.—Probably the most enjoyable of all the concerted excursions of the Oakland Board of Trade party was that to the island of Catalina in which nearly 200 took part. The weather was delightful and the familiarity which has been occasioned by intercourse which gave the occasion the charm of a large family outing.

The trip to San Pedro was made via the Santa Fe road. At that point while waiting a few moments for the arrival of the steamer to convey the party to the island, the harbor, with its breakwater and other improvements which are being carried on by the national government, were viewed with a critical eye and compared with the home harbor in Oakland. At the time there were about a dozen sailing and steam craft moored to the wharves, waiting to be unloaded of various kinds of cargoes intended for Los Angeles.

BIG UNDERTAKING.

One of the party asked, why didn't Los Angeles have this harbor extended to her doors and an Omaha, who has become inoculated with the Los Angeles virus of go-aheadiveness, said, that if such a job could be accomplished by any set of people, it would be done by those of Los Angeles.

GOOD ROADS.

Dr. Clark, County Infirmary—This excursion being attended by so many citizens will, I believe, be productive ultimately of a vast amount of enthusiasm being instilled into every true citizen in a new era of progress for our country. Very truly, this section is far ahead of Alameda county in a number of instances but after an eighty-mile ride in an auto through the surrounding country, I failed to find a single piece of road which could be classed as fair in Alameda county. Nor did I see a good bridge or even a small concrete culvert. No voice is heard here for county division, but on all sides you hear Los Angeles and county first, last and all the time. This should be taken as an object lesson of unity, energy and enthusiasm, will do for a section which has not one-half the natural advantages and beauty of Alameda county and also that the same factors applied at home will make Alameda county the most wealthy and interesting county in the State.

OUR STREETS.

Deputy District Attorney P. M. Walsh—A person need not be in Los Angeles over ten minutes before he discovers one of the chief elements of its advancement. That element is the enthusiasm which the inhabitants possess for their city. This enthusiasm is earnest and insistent and cannot be impressed the visitor. Besides, the people of the city never "know." "Our Oakland streets are much superior to yours," remarked a visitor to a Los Angeles resident. "We realize that," replied the Southern man, "but we never say anything derogatory of our streets." The hotels of the city can hardly be models of their kind. The leading architect of the town spends a month or two in the East gathering new ideas, preliminary to the construction of each building that is put into his charge. Oakland's greatest need is new, first-class hotels. The Board of Trade excursion cannot but be productive of great good in instilling new ideas and go-aheadiveness into the visitors. A tour of Los Angeles and its surrounding cities and towns will make anyone prouder of this State, realize its capabilities and arouse admiration for the people of the South who have turned a desert into a fruit garden most beautiful.

OUR SHIPPING AND STREETS.

Hugh Logan—Los Angeles is growing rapidly for a city without any natural resources, located as she is in the middle of a desert. But she shows what can be done with energy and push. We can do nothing to copy but the United should not have to reproach ourselves for being so far behind the South, as we certainly are in some respects. Nature has done more for us than she has for the South. It remains for man to do his part. If we can abolish the "knicker," pull together and cultivate civic pride as they have in Los Angeles, there is no reason why we cannot prosper as they have.

ELECTRIC ROADS.

Supervisor Horner—I have been all over Los Angeles and the neighboring towns. I find that electric roads are running everywhere and the country is being cut up to establish residences and business along these lines. This ought to be done in Alameda county. We ought to have more lines of this kind and there would be a great deal of progress made in the county.

WANTS PROGRESS.

V. L. Fortin—This is one of the most delightful trips I have ever made. I have enjoyed myself greatly. I am not surprised at the progress which Los Angeles has made. Everybody here wants progress. This progress sometimes hurts a few, but the few must yield to the many. Here the clamor of a few is silenced by public opinion and improvements follow improvements. We fight for years over something that would here be realized in a jiffy. These Board of Trade excursionists, to a man, will hereafter want things to be done in Oakland as those same things are done in Los Angeles.

LITHOGRAPHERS MANY CAUSE TROUBLE

NEW YORK, February 15.—Trouble between the 10,000 lithographers of the country and their employers which has been brewing for nearly two years, is expected to come to a head on March 15, says the Herald. On that date a general strike or lockout probably will occur and contracts worth millions of dollars may be transferred from this country to Europe.

The difficulty arises over the demands of the American Lithographing Association composed of 124 firms, that their employees sign, on or before March 15 a general plan of arbitration by which all disputes between the employers and the unions are to be settled. If the unions refuse to sign the arbitration agreement, as organizations the employers will no longer recognize the unions. Then, if the men as individuals decline to enter the arbitration agreement they will be discouraged, and a strike or lockout is expected.

Ninety-five per cent of all the lithographers are well organized and the majority receive wages of $12 a week or more. Most of the poster artists get from $35 to $125 a week.

If the strike or lockout comes it will practically tie up all branches of lithographing work, from magazine illustrations to huge circus posters. In anticipation of the coming trouble several large contracts already have been sent to Europe.

JOHN M. YORE IN OAKLAND.

John M. Yore, nephew of the late Mrs. Mary Yore, arrived in Oakland yesterday from his home in St. Joseph, Mich., and is stopping at the residence of his brother, William J. Yore, ex-manager of the Canine-estate, at 606 Thirty-sixth street.

The supposition is that John Yore has come to Oakland to assist his brother in contesting the will of their late aunt, who did not leave either of them a penny.

When questioned as to whether or not he would contest the will of his late aunt, Mr. Yore is not prepared to make any statement whatever concerning my movements or those of my brother. I am not here to assist in a contest of the will.

It has been told by my brother that it has been reported that my sister, Mrs. Michael David, and her husband have arrived in New York. I can state positively that it was never the intention of my sister to come to California. Michael David could come to settle accounts with a power of attorney. If Mrs. David was in America, her attorney, William J. Yore, would have notified me, but as yet I have received no word from him.

STRUCK ON HEAD WITH BEER GLASS.

During a saloon row at the corner of Twenty-ninth and San Pablo yesterday C. L. Stall, a clerk living at 1420 San Pablo avenue, was struck on the head with a heavy beer glass. The force of the blow was so great that Stall's scalp was laid bare to the bone, rendering him unconscious. Although efforts were made to revive him, he did not regain his senses until he reached the Receiving Hospital, where he was taken for treatment.

After being treated some time on his arrival at the hospital, Stall became conscious, but was unable to tell who struck him. He says there was a large crowd in the saloon when the trouble arose. Before an officer got to the scene of the row, however, all the men had left.

In dressing the wound, Dr. Lilley found it necessary to take eleven stitches to close the edges of the laceration.

DALTON'S FIGURES

SAN FRANCISCO, February 15.—Henry P. Dalton, Assessor of Alameda county, has informed the Board of Supervisors that in that county the Spring Valley Water Company is assessed in the sum of $3,430,175. Of that sum, $204,000 is on real estate, $3,131,175 is on personal property and improvements.

RICH WOMEN DONATE MONEY FOR CHARITY.

NEW YORK, February 15.—Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt and her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, have determined to accept literally and act upon the advice recently given by the Rev. Dr. Rainford, of St. George's Church, who deplored the exclusive attitude of women of wealth, saying that they should take a more direct and active interest in the affairs of those less fortunate.

Mrs. Vanderbilt has begun her work by giving $5000 to the Presbyterian Hospital training school for nurses, with the condition that it be spent to send nurses into the tenement houses. This sum, it is understood, will be only a fraction of what she will devote to the same purpose, if the work prospers as she hopes.

Mrs. Harriman has joined in the movement and both have determined not only to supply funds but to be directly of their time. For the better management of the undertaking, a governing committee will be formed, of which both women will be members.

ALVINZA HAYWARD PASSES AWAY.

THE LATE ALVINZA HAYWARD.

SA FRANCISCO, February 15.—Alvinza Hayward, the well-known capitalist and miner, passed away at 4:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the residence of Charles A. Lane, after a comparatively brief illness. The paralytic stroke which he suffered a short time ago finally resulted in his death.

For more than a week Mr. Hayward had been unable to speak, and for sixteen hours before his death, he was unconscious. Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Lane, and Mrs. Hazelhurst and Arnold were at his bedside when the end came.

Alvinza Hayward was a native of Vermont, and was eighty-two years old at the time of his death.

He came to California in 1850 and immediately engaged in mining in Sutter Creek, Amador County. His every venture proved successful and he soon became one of the wealthiest miners in the State. For the last twenty years he has been associated with Charles D. Lane in the Utica Mine at Angels Camp.

He built a magnificent residence in San Mateo where he resided until shortly before his death.

The funeral will take place today under the auspices of the old Sacramento Lodge of Scottish Chiefs. The body will be laid in a vault at Laurel Hill.

CONTRABAND OF WAR.

COLLECTOR STRATTON ISSUES A STATEMENT TO SHIPPERS.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 15.—Customs Collector Stratton has issued a circular to the leading merchants in this city defining what is meant by contraband of war. The following are extracts:

"The term contraband of war, comprehends only articles having a belligerent destination, as to an enemy's port or fleet. With this explanation the following articles are, for the present, to be treated as contraband:

Absolutely contraband—Ordnance; machine guns and their appliances and the parts thereof; armor plate, and whatever pertains to the offensive and defensive armament of naval vessels; arms and instruments of iron, steel, brass or copper, or of any other material, such arms and instruments being specially adapted for use in war by land or sea; torpedoes and their appliances; cases for mines, of whatever material; engineering and transport materials, such as gun carriages, dismounts, carriage boxes, campaigning forges, caissons, pontoons, ordnance stores, portable range finders, signal flags destined for naval use; machinery for the manufacturing of arms and munitions of war; saltpetre; military accoutrements and equipments of all sorts; horses and mules.

"Conditionally contraband—Coal, when destined for a naval station, a port of call, or a ship or ships of the enemy; materials for the construction of railways or telegraphs, and money, when such materials or money are destined for the enemy's forces; provisions, when destined for an enemy's ship or ships, or for a place that is besieged, or for the army.

"These are articles understood by the laws of nations to be either doubtfully or absolutely contraband of war and such goods destined for either Russian or Japanese ports will not be protected by the American flag, but may be subject to seizure.

"Generally speaking, therefore, munitions of war and whatever is essential to belligerents' support are contraband. Merchandise may become such when destined for port of equipment or for the support of an army.

"In such latter event the exporter must take all such chances of seizure and must protect himself, if at all, through war risk clauses in insurance policies.

"Goods not included in either of the above categories are either absolutely or conditionally contraband and will be protected by the American flag where the goods are exported in merchant or other vessels of the United States.

"Subject to this limitation as to war risk and the penalties involved, any contraband will be prohibited upon the export of merchandise of any character whatever from this port destined to either of the countries of Russia or Japan.

"I do not desire to be understood in the foregoing infringings upon the law of nations regarding supplying munitions of war to cruisers or armed vessels of either nation which may come into this port. Such vessels fall within a different category and will be prohibited upon the export of merchandise of any character whatever from this port destined to either of the countries of the Orient."

WAYMIRE ANSWERS.

James A. Waymire has filed an answer to the suit of Jose G. Alviso to recover $10,000 alleged to be due as his share of money that was lent by his late father, Augustus Alviso, to the Mexican government during the Maximilian invasion. Jose G. Alviso claims he was fraudulently cheated out of his rights in the matter. He includes as a defendant in the action his brother, Valentin Alviso, who acted as executor of their late father's estate.

In his answer Waymire alleges that Alviso transferred his claim to Frederick Hall. He further states that at first it was impossible to obtain any money from the Mexican government. A commission that was appointed in 1885 to pass on the claim rejected it. Later, Waymire states, he obtained a settlement on the basis of 27 cents on the dollar. His expenses, however, were more than the entire amount recovered. He alleges that there is nothing due Alviso.

ALAMEDA COUNTY INSTALLS

What Christian Endeavor has accomplished was the subject of the afternoon session, given by E. A. Hull.

A song by the boys' choir of the First Congregational Church was followed by a prayer by Miss Florence Young, who told of "What Christian Endeavor Has Done Spiritually for Young People," and Dr. E. Dille, pastor of the First Methodist Church, spoke of "What Christian Endeavor Has Done for the Church."

The convention was opened at 2:30 p. m. by prayer given by Dr. E. A. Hull.

FROM BERKELEY AND THE STATE UNIVERSITY

AFTER STUDENT SMOKERS.

COLLEGE DAILY TAKES UP THE QUESTION OF PUFFING IN THE CORRIDORS.

BERKELEY, February 15.—The college men at the University of California are becoming alarmed at the agitation which has been commenced to curtail their smoking privileges. The anti-smokers who are taking the initiative in the movement are openly asserting that the weed should not be indulged in about the corridors and other places that are frequented by the students.

Gustav White, the editor of the Californian, the college daily, expresses himself on the subject, in the following terms, in this morning's issue of the publication:

"There is some justification for the complaint against the way men smoke about the campus. Such seems to be quite a prevalent sentiment among numerous women students who read our 'good mother's' criticism. Laying aside the question as to the harm—or the good, one should say—of the excessive smoking, let us ask another question: Does it show a lack of good breeding for men to smoke in North Hall corridor when that corridor is used by women students as much as by men? We ask for information."

CHINA CANNOT ASSUME RESPONSIBILITY.

PEKING, Saturday, February 13.—The Government has addressed a circular to the Foreign Ministers here recapitulating the neutrality edict. The documents point out that the government cannot assume responsibility for maintaining the neutrality of territory still under control of foreign powers.

COLONEL GRANBERRY DEAD.

NEW YORK, February 15.—Colonel Henry H. Granberry, 96 years old, who in 1831 put down an insurrection at South Hamden, which became known in Virginia history as Knapp's war, is dead at his home here. He owned a large tobacco plantation in Virginia, but had lived here since 1811 and to have voted at every Presidential election since the Jackson campaign. Colonel Granberry was known as General R. E. Lee's double.

BLIND BOYS WILL FORM DEBATING TEAM.

Junior Debating Society of the Oakland High School Accepts Challenge to Forensic Contest.

BERKELEY, February 15.—The debaters of the blind department at the Institute for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind have challenged the Junior Debating Society of the Oakland High School to a forensic contest to be held on April 23d.

The general subject for the contest will be the Panama question and the Oakland society has been given until next Friday to submit the specific topic. On February 24th the blind debaters will announce their choice of sides.

Both the Junior Debating Society of the Oakland High School and the blind debaters of the institute are now busily engaged in holding try-outs for the selections of their respective teams.

The blind boys are being coached by Raymond Henderson, a blind debater who has been a member of University of California teams. Henderson takes a lively interest in the debating at the Blind Institute, from which he graduated a number of years ago.

As the members of one of the teams to engage in the coming contest will be entirely blind the forensic contest promises to be one of the most unusual ever held in the State.

SOLDIERS ENTER PROTEST.

THEY WANT INSIGNIA TO REMAIN OVER THE GRAVES OF COMRADES.

BERKELEY, February 15.—Exception is being taken by the members of Look-out Mountain Post, No. 58, G. A. R. of this city, and other posts of Alameda county, to the action of the National View Cemetery Association in ordering the letters "G. A. R." removed from the weather-vane on the flagstaff over the veterans' graves.

The following letter received by the veterans tells of the action of the cemetery officials:

was carried by a unanimous vote. Very truly, "A. D. SMITH, Superintendent."

It is the intention of the members of the local post to have the order rescinded.

SHERIFF SUMMONS LIQUOR CASE JURY

BERKELEY, February 15.—Deputies from the office of the Sheriff of Alameda county have summoned sixty veniremen for the case of Mrs. George Malcolm, a West Berkeley colored woman, who is charged with selling liquor without a license. A large number of witnesses have also been summoned for the case which will begin tomorrow.

Mrs. Malcolm was arrested at the same time as aged Christopher Cole was taken into custody on a similar charge. Cole pleaded guilty and is now serving a sixty-day sentence in the County Jail.

DEPUTY SHERIFF SHOT.

MISSOULA, Mont., February 15.—Edward Trudeau, a Deputy Sheriff, was shot dead today by a drunken character named Herman Parsons. A posse is in pursuit of the murderer.

REPAIRS TO COST HUNDREDS.

GREAT DAMAGE WAS DONE TO STREETS IN THE GREAT RAINSTORM.

BERKELEY, February 15.—"It will cost hundreds of dollars to repair the damage done to the streets by the recent heavy rainstorm," said Superintendent of Streets E. C. Turner, "after he had made a thorough examination of the thoroughfares in all parts of the city. 'The greatest damage was done by the washing away of upper layers of macadam and the choking of gutters and culverts.'"

Among the avenues that suffered severely from the flood were Adelphi, Woolsey and Dwight ways. A bulkhead in Derby creek at the intersection of Baker street and Asby avenue was washed out and the rock that had been piled along the banks of Strawberry creek to prevent the earth washing away from the Town Hall site was pulled down by the flood.

The ponds of water that formed in various parts of the city, and especially in the West End, where the lower floors of a number of houses were flooded, have not subsided as yet.

MARDI GRAS PARTY JUST BEFORE LENT.

BERKELEY, February 15.—One of the largest pre-Lenten social functions of the season will be a Mardi Gras party to be given tomorrow night by the young people of St. Mark's Episcopal Church in the parish-house. All the guests will be expected to wear masks and dancing at 2 o'clock will be features of the evening's entertainment. A small admission fee will be charged and the funds will be devoted to the choir fund.

PROF. GAYLEY RECOVERS FROM HIS ILLNESS.

BERKELEY, February 15.—After several days' illness, Professor Charles Willis Gayley is able to meet his classes again at the State University. Miss Connelley, Thirman of Essex street, who has been very low with brain fever, is able to leave her home. The family of W. H. Miller of Minneapolis, Minn., have moved into the Woods house at 2206 Volsky street.

LIVELY WEEK SCHEDULED MAY HAVE TO CUT THE BONDS.

Interesting Events Are Announced to Take Place Among the College People.

BERKELEY, February 15.—That the coming week at the University of California will be a lively one is shown by the calendar which has just been issued.

A missionary rally and banquet will be held tomorrow afternoon at Stiles Hall. The "World Wide Missionary Movement" will be discussed at 4:15 o'clock and an assembly held at 7 o'clock. The assembly will be addressed by Rev. Dwight L. Potter. At Stiles Hall, at 8 o'clock, the senate will hold a debate on the question, "Resolved, That the United States should have recognized the independence of Panama." The Students' Congress will hold a debate in North Hall at the same hour on the question, "Resolved, That Russian control of Manchuria is for the benefit of civilization."

At 10 o'clock Wednesday morning the Honorable John Swett will lecture in North Hall on "The History of Secondary Education in California." A baseball game will be played between the Varsity and Independents on the campus at 2:30 o'clock. The junior men will give a reception to the junior women at Shattuck Hall at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Plans for the students' labor day will be discussed at a meeting of the Associated Graduate Students to be held at 11 o'clock Friday morning. On next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the Varsity will play a baseball game on the campus with St. Mary's College nine.

BEGIN NEW YEAR WITH NOISE.

CHINESE STARTLE COLLEGE TOWN RESIDENTS BY THE FIRING OF CRACKERS.

BERKELEY, February 15.—Residents living in the vicinity of the Chinese houses at Dwight way and on Addison street were startled at an early hour this morning when the Celestials enjoyed their new year by a vigorous popping of firecrackers under the glow of red lanterns. The Chinese devoted the first part of the evening to final preparations for the new year, and the noise which will mark the coming week, by midnight the faint odor of incense was perceptible in the streets, and that they might begin the new year with clean conscience, the Chinese made a great stir of housework and cleaning.

Today marks the thirty-third year of the reign of Emperor Kuang Hsu and for the next seven days the holiday event will be observed with a display of great enthusiasm by the local Chinese.

MAINLINE ENGINES FOR LOCAL ROAD.

BERKELEY, February 15.—That the fastest possible time may be made on the local steam road, main line engines are now being used on the trips that carry the greatest number of passengers. The locomotives have three driving wheels instead of two and if the experiment of using the larger engines proves satisfactory, it is possible that the smaller machines may be abandoned altogether.

The new time table recently put in operation by the Southern Pacific Company has been operating without a hitch and several minutes have been clipped off the old time to the city.

MEETING OF THE GENERAL CITIZENS' COMMITTEE WILL BE HELD TONIGHT.

BERKELEY, February 15.—It is expected that the bond proposition to be submitted to the voters of the city will take definite form at the meeting of the Citizens' Bond Committee to be held tonight at the Town Hall. ## SOCIAL GIVEN AT EMERYVILLE.

LANE EYES HOBOS HARD—SANTA FE WORKING SPEEDILY.

EMERYVILLE, February 15.—The interior of the palatial Emery residence presented a fairylike appearance last Saturday evening, when there was assembled a select club party of thirty-two ladies and gentlemen. The dining hall in particular was a maze of beauty.

Chains of evergreen were gracefully festooned and pendant from them were strings of blood-red hearts, making the whole a picture of the room a vision perhaps signifying that love in the hearts of those present was ever fresh and everlasting. Flowers, in abundance were strewn upon the table cover. Every corner seemed blossoming with multi-colored flowers, while the palms, artistically arranged, made the scene all that any artist could desire.

Music and refreshments were enjoyed during the evening.

The club is of a most select character and is made up of sixteen of the most prominent ladies of the social set here. The sturdy set are allowed to enjoy themselves but twice a year by the rules of the club, and under St. Valentine's influence the women of the club are worshipped—this being made happy for the first time this year.

The event was a most pronounced success.

LANE'S VIGILANCE.

Friday is an unlucky day, it is said, and it was particularly unlucky for four-ton gentlemen of the road last Friday night when Marshal Lane and Deputy Marshal Brown pounced down upon them in various and many places.

"The hoboes" had been attracted, presumably, by the new depot, as its unfinished corners furnished many a shelter spot for a night's free lodging.

"Marshal Lane doesn't like 'hoboes' and so he invited them to move, as back rent was due.

They went, and promised to go back. The direction taken is not known.

SANTA FE CULVERT.

The Santa Fe is pushing its work along and a culvert is being dug near the depot, in preparation for the prospective four-track system.

CAR BLOCKADES TRAVEL.

POOR ROADBED CAUSES TROUBLE AT SAN LEANDRO.

SAN LEANDRO, February 15.—Traffic was stopped for a considerable length of time Saturday on the Hayward street car line. Car making run No. 11 jumped the track while rounding the curve in front of the postoffice. The car after leaving the track made a sudden turn at right angles to the track. The car was filled with passengers, but fortunately no body was hurt.

The wrecking crew was sent for at once and the car and its load were worked the blockade was removed. The track at this point is very dangerous as the curve is very sudden and the road bed badly in need of repair.

MAN OR WOMAN CAN HAVE DYSPEPSIA

And Still Be Agreeable, Attractive and Popular
---Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a Certain, Safe and Natural Cure.

THEY WILL MAKE YOU LOOK PLEASANT.

There is nothing that will put you to the front so rapidly in the business or social world as a cheerful disposition and a pleasant appearance. Other things being equal, people will go out of their way to give a fellow a lift who always wears a cheerful countenance. The man or woman with a cranky disposition and a sour face will always meet with an indifferent if not a chilly reception. The successful business traveler, who is the recognized business barometer, appreciates better than any the value of this rule and governs his actions accordingly.

Dyspepsia destroys all the agreeable qualities that enter into a man's or woman's make-up. It is almost a human impossibility for any one with a severe case of dyspepsia to look pleasant. The continuous, mellowing, sweet-sour feeling is bound to make itself shown in the appearance and conversation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the sufferer's certain cure. They are also recognized all over the world. The cures they have brought about and the happiness they have caused and the suffering they have relieved have made their name a household word in all the English-speaking world.

The reason that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a certain cure is that they are a natural cure. There is nothing to prevent them curing. They contain the essential ingredients of the digestive fluids of the stomach and simply do the natural work of the stomach, relieving that weakened organ and permitting it to rest and recuperate. Could anything be more simple or natural? They are bound to cure. It is just like putting a new stomach into a man—if that were possible—and letting him go off on a vacation. Rest is what it needs. Nature will do her own work of restoration, free from fear.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box. All druggists mean all druggists. They have become so popular that they keep the druggist simply as a thing to keep them any way. There are other remedies that he can make much more money on if he could sell them, but he can't. He will not take chances on losing his customers by buying a cheap substitute. A supply of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

MAKE PEACE WITH YOUR STOMACH.

You Are Certain to Lose If You Attempt the Use of Force or Violence.

You cannot force your stomach to do work that it is unable and unwilling to do. It has been tried time and time again, always with the same result. The stomach is a good and faithful servant; but beyond the limit of its capacity, it will not do more. Some stomachs will stand more abuse than others, but every stomach has its limit. If the limit is reached it is a very dangerous and unwise proceeding to attempt to force it to do more. The only safe, sane, and reasonable course is to employ a substitute to carry on the work of digestion and give the stomach a opportunity to rest and recuperate in its own strength.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the only perfect substitute to take up and carry on the work of tired, worn-out stomachs. They are natural and easy in their action, and they do not disturb the digestive organs. They contain all the essential elements that make up the gastric juice, and they will digest any food that a strong, healthy stomach will and do it in the same time and in the same way. They work independently of the stomach's own strength, and the fact that the stomach is weak or diseased does not influence them at all. In their use, the stomach is not disturbed, it will digest food just as well in a glass jar or bottle as they will in a stomach. You can see that by putting one of them into a jar with a square meal and some water to enable it to work.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, by thus relieving the stomach of its work, enable that organ to rest and recuperate and regain its health and strength. The stomach is perfectly natural and plain. Nature will heal the stomach just as she would a wound or broken limb. It should not be interfered with, and is permitted to do her work in her own way. All interference is bound to be evicted by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists everywhere at 50 cents a box. If you are afflicted with dyspepsia, one box will make you feel very much better. You will forget you have a stomach trouble, and you will be as healthy as a horse. No druggist would be so short-sighted as to try to get along without Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are so popular and are so well known for the good they have done and the happiness they have brought that they are a certain cure without them. They are a certain cure, and the confidence of his customers and the regard as below the standard of his patrons would go to other stores and buy their other drugs there as well as their Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

DON'T WEAR A LONG FACE.

It is a Great Handicap in All Business and Social Relations.

The man who looks as if he had lost his heart is a great handicap. He is crushed by the part of the new ones unless he "chairs up." People are not going out of their way to give a fellow a lift who looks like a man of doubtful and melancholy appearance. They are afraid he will tell them his troubles and they steer clear of him, as they all have plenty of their own.

The most universal cause of the far from cheerful appearance is dyspepsia. It unfits a man for every duty of life and causes him to become depressed and gloomy and nervous. It looks do not help his feelings. He appears cast down and dejected and becomes a burden to himself and humanity in general.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the dyspepsia's certain relief. They do the work his stomach is unable to do by relieving that organ of its burdens permit it to regain its health and strength and become active and useful in its functions. They contain all the essential ingredients that enter into the digestive fluids and simply do the natural work of the stomach, relieving that weakened organ and permitting it to rest and recuperate in its own strength.

By this means a man can get right ahead with his work and out enough to keep him in proper working condition. His system is not deprived of its necessary nourishment as it is in the case of the "starvation cure" or the employment of the first-class chicken food now on the market. Starvation, even if it were a good thing, could not be continued long enough to do any good. It is a weak and worn-out stomach is not going to become strong and healthy in two or three days.

getting well, while relieving it of its work. They perform the duties of both nurse and physician. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box, and there is very little danger of any druggist trying to sell you something else in their place. "Just as good" they are so well established and have done so much good in the world that their name has become a household word. The usual warning, "Accept no substitute," is unnecessary in the case of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

A HOUSE BUILT UPON A ROCK.

It is the Dyspepsia Sufferer's Only Refuge: His Shelter, His Hope and His Strength.

To the weak and weary sufferer from dyspepsia, storm-tossed on the sea of despondency and buffeted and beaten by his cruel affliction, there appears a ray of hope where he may find relief from his danger and distress. It is for him to accept or reject; but if accepted, he will find relief in the security of perfect health as certain as the hills endure.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been used and proved successful in curing certain relief from his troubles and distress, the world over. Their unparalleled and phenomenal success in curing multitudes of thousands of cases of dyspepsia throughout the regions of the earth.

The reason of the wonderful success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is so plain and simple that a child can understand. It is this and nothing more: they are natural and they work in the same way. They take up the work of the worn and wasted stomach and do it just as the stomach did when it was well and strong and able. They act like the food and do it thoroughly, completely and independently, thus giving the weak and weary stomach an opportunity to rest and regain its own strength. You forget that you have a stomach just as you did when you were healthy.

No matter how much you eat or what you eat, the results are just the same. Take one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after the meal and regardless of the condition of your stomach, your food will be digested in a perfectly natural, normal and healthy manner. Your stomach will have a perfect rest and Nature will do the rest. Your digestion will be perfect and you will enjoy the perfect health that suffers always receive from Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists everywhere at 50 cents a box. All druggists mean all druggists. They have become so popular that they keep the druggist simply as a thing to keep them any way. There are other remedies that he can make much more money on if he could sell them, but he can't. He will not take chances on losing his customers by buying a cheap substitute. A supply of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

IS YOUR STOMACH ON A STRIKE?

There is Nothing to Prevent You Employing a Substitute to Do Its Work.

There is such a thing as forbearance coming to the limit of its capacity, and then it strikes. There is no question but that some stomachs will stand a great deal more abuse than others, but every stomach has its limit. If the limit is reached it is a very dangerous and unwise proceeding to attempt to force it to do more. The only safe, sane, and reasonable course is to employ a substitute to carry on the work of digestion and give the stomach a opportunity to rest and recuperate in its own strength.

LOHMAN HAS GREAT TEAM FOR THIS SEASON. THE RACES— OTHER NOTES.

CAPT. PETE LOHMAN HAS A GREAT TEAM.

He Will Take His Men to Hanford to Train for Opening of the Season.

Captain Peter Lohman of the Oakland baseball team, will start the season with seven veteran players who were instrumental in winning the championship for the Oakland team in 1902.

At the end of that season a number of the players who composed the pennant team left for various parts of the country, but now Lohman has gathered nearly all of them together again.

The Oakland baseball aggregation will leave on March 1 for Hanford, where they will go into training for twenty-two days.

Lohman has secured excellent quarters for his men, the hotel being within a mile of the baseball ground.

Lohman brings reports from Hanford to the effect that the people of that city are exceedingly enthusiastic and are making elaborate preparations for a series of exhibition games.

The pitching for the Oakland team in Hanford will be done by Oscar Jones, who is the favorite in that section of the country.

He is a Brooklynite and will prove a great batting card.

A team from Fresno will furnish one of the games and a nine composed of Hanford players will be the other opponent of the Oakland team.

The Oakland team will leave Hanford on March 22 for Los Angeles, where the season will be played out there by the end of the month.

Tom Sharkey and Jack Munro, the rival heavyweights, are losing a time in getting into condition for their six-round battle in Philadelphia on February 27.

Modicum, with Hildebrand in the saddle, made a strong effort to repeat his splendid performance of a week ago, but failed dismally. He had ten additional pounds to carry, and his legs were not suitable to the extra weight.

Claude was a firm favorite, and there was no surprise as to the result.

Byronade was ridden by the same man, and it was observed that Claude by his bearing and tactics squeezed a victory from the horse.

Bookmakers suffered Saturday. The list of winners being made up of four favorites and two heavily backed second choices. Brennus landed the opening race from Standard and Polonius, being the favorite of the crowd.

My Order, an odds-on choice, accounted for the two-year-old event, but had to attend strictly to business to best Bob Hainault.

Hainault covered herself with mud and glory in the third event, sailing by the judges four lengths in front of Celestina. The favorite, was a pronounced last in a field of five.

Many of the 150 pianos placed on sale last week have been sold, but we still have a fine selection, and we again wish to invite our friends to inspect our stock. Our pianos are genuine, and have seldom if ever been quoted in this city at such low prices. They are mostly new pianos for sale, and must have room for the new ones now on route.

All second-hand pianos have been thoroughly overhauled, and are guaranteed by us. Many of them are on exchange for new pianos within three years, and full purchase price allowed.

NEW FOOTBALL SCHEDULE.

SOME INTERESTING CONTESTS ARE ARRANGED FOR THE FUTURE.

The California Association Football League met at headquarters for the purpose of rearranging the league schedule, thrown out of order by the postponement of many games.

While it may be true that this has been a dry season for many districts in California, it has been a wet season for football around the bay. Last season not only on Sunday occurred to spoil a game; this season quite a number of games have had to be postponed on account of heavy rain and mud and several important games, have been played off in a pouring rain.

The rearranged schedule is as follows:
February 21—Albions vs. Independents, Presidio, 1 p. m.; Thistles vs. Vampires, Presidio, 3 p. m.
February 22—Hornets vs. Thistles, Presidio, 2:30 p. m.
February 23—Thistles vs. Pickwicks, Presidio, 1 p. m.
February 24—Hornets vs. Occidentals, Presidio, 3 p. m.
March 6—Thistles vs. Hornets, Presidio, 1 p. m.
March 6—Vampires vs. Independents, Presidio, 3 p. m.
March 12—Independents vs. Pickwicks, Idora Park, 1 p. m.
March 13—Thistles vs. Albions, Idora Park, 3 p. m.
March 20—Semi-final cup game.
March 21—Final cup game.

The games marked by stars are cup tie games.
The referees appointed to officiate at the above games are C. W. Irish, R. Logan, A. Robinson, A. W. Wilding, H. Roberts, S. McCallum and J. Casson.

End of Bitter Fight.
"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abscess on my right lung," writes J. F. Hughes, of Du Pont, Cal., and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all Coughs, Colds and Throat and Lung troubles. Guaranteed by Oswald Davis, Seventh and Broadway Drug Store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, indigestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

DELANEY WITH HANLON.

PITTSBURG, February 15.—About 2,500 men attended the first seven years Saturday night at the old City Hall. The importance of the event is that it will probably open the way for real contests.

Eddie Hanlon played with his sparring partner, Harry Foley, for four rounds.

Jack McClelland, who is anxious to meet Hanlon, sparring with Kie Tyler.

There were numerous bouts and blood was drawn in some.

SPIDER WELCH TO TRAVEL.

Sausalito will, on February 27, have a chance to witness a go between "Spider" Welch, the San Francisco boy and young Grossman of San Rafael.

Welch has a good reputation as a hard hitter and when it comes to being "game" he can deliver the goods.

After the contest he expects to go to Montana where articles have been signed for a fight with Louis Long.

No match has as yet been made between "Spider" Welch and "Kid" Broad.

DAVE BARRY WINS AT HONOLULU.

HONOLULU, February 15.—Dave Barry of San Francisco knocked out Mike Williams in two rounds at the Orpheum on Saturday night. Both men are light heavyweights. Williams is employed at the Naval Station. Barry is now training to meet Tim Murphy.

MORRIS SCHNEIDER RETURNS FROM SOUTH

Morris Schneider, the Washington street shoe merchant, has returned from a week's trip to Southern California and Old Mexico.

Mr. Schneider, during his absence visited Tia Juana, Mexico, San Diego, Colorado, National City, Los Angeles and all points of interest thereabouts. Mr. Schneider is an extensive traveler and only recently returned from a five months' visit to Europe, which continent he covered thoroughly. He always brings back many mementoes of his journeys in the shape of old and rare relics.

Mr. Schneider said this morning: "Of all the many places I have visited none have impressed me as favorably as Oakland. I would not live anywhere else. I found many people now in Southern California, who are Eastern tourists, who will come this way before they return home. I think if Oakland and Alameda county had a public bureau in Los Angeles pointing at our many advantages, it would be of much benefit to this section and benefit wherever I have gone. First, I have found Los Angeles literature scattered in all public places, such as hotels and railroad depots and it does, in my estimation a wonderful amount of good for the territory advertised."

WILLIAM WINTER FOOTE'S WARM HEART CEASES TO BEAT.

The Distinguished Lawyer, Orator and Politician Has Answered Death's Call—A Career Crowded With Achievement and Adventurous Incident Finally Closed—A Host of Friends Mourn the Passing of a Man Noted for His Wit and Originality.

William Winter Foote, for more than thirty years a leader at the bar and in the politics of California, orator of renown, raconteur, bon vivant and sportsman, died Saturday afternoon in San Francisco at the residence of his bosom friend, James V. Coleman, 681 Van Ness avenue. His funeral took place at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Colonel Foote had been in ill health for a year, suffering from a chronic liver complaint, but the immediate illness which carried him off was only of a week's duration. During the past year he had been in steadily falling health, and he believed that he had little time to live. A week ago Saturday morning he was invited to see the Burns' handicap, and went out to Ingleside in Adam Andrew's special car as the guest of Mr. Andrew. That day he had a chill, and upon his return to his office in the afternoon the chill became very severe. Word was sent to Mr. Coleman, who called with a carriage and took the sick man home. The cold settled in Mr. Foote's head and face and erysipelas followed. Early in the week this patient's condition became serious, and after Wednesday Mr. Foote did not at any time regain consciousness.

The end came Saturday, when a quiet sleep of several hours took on the form of death so gradually that the change could hardly be observed. Present at the time were only Henry S. Foote, a son, and John J. Lerman, Mr. Foote's law partner.

News of Colonel Foote's death caused profound sorrow in Oakland. He had lived here continuously for thirty-four years, and was personally known to nearly everybody in the community. His residence at the corner of Thirteenth and Brush streets was a famous seat of hospitality until recently. In his boyhood Colonel Foote went to school here at the old Brayton College, afterward merged into the University of California. He subsequently returned to the South with his father, Honorable Henry S. Foote, who, in 1855, came within one vote of being elected United States Senator from California. Colonel Foote returned to Oakland in 1870, and for a time edited the Oakland News, but in a little while he abandoned journalism for the law, in which he speedily became distinguished and successful.

Early in his career he made himself famous by his phenomenal success in defending murder cases, one of his most conspicuous early victories being the defense of Schroeder, the son-in-law of Rev. Horatio Stebbins, for killing Dr. Lefevre. In 1872 Colonel Foote ran against A. A. Moore for City Attorney, and it is worthy of note that he and Mr. Moore have ever since been the closest and warmest of friends.

THE LATE W. W. FOOTE.

WAS A CONFEDERATE SOLDIER.

Colonel Foote was a Confederate soldier, born at Jackson, Miss., January 18, 1848, son of Honorable Henry S. Foote, United States Senator from that State, and subsequently Governor, having defeated Jefferson Davis in the year 1850. Before he had completed his sixteenth year he entered the military service of the Confederate States, at Columbus, Ky., in December, 1861, as a private in the Shelby Greys, a company belonging to the First Tennessee Infantry, and was subsequently made sergeant-major of the Tennessee corps of Artillery. He was in the famous battle of Fort Donelson, and of his work Colonel Haynes in the official war records says: "During my service at Fort Donelson, both before and during the engagements, I was under obligations to Acting Adjutant William W. Foote of the Corps of Artillery, a boy only 16 years old, for the prompt and faithful discharge of arduous and dangerous duties." The young soldier was taken prisoner, but when exchanged after a month he re-enlisted as a second lieutenant in the Tenth Tennessee Infantry. After that he fought in various engagements with the troops of Grant and Sherman. When wounded on May 12, 1863, he was again captured, and he remained sixteen months in captivity. Again exchanged, he again enlisted, and as adjutant of the Fifteenth Arkansas Regiment he served until the close of the war.

RETURNS TO CALIFORNIA.

At the close of the war, Colonel Foote studied law at the University of Virginia, and later settled at Omaha, where he became one of the editors of the Herald, then the leading paper of Nebraska and still the Democratic organ of the State. In 1869 he returned to California, and in 1870 settled in Oakland, where he has ever since resided. He married Isabel Taylor, the accomplished daughter of the late Chauncey Taylor, the pioneer merchant, the fruit of the union being Mrs. Stanley Jackson, Chauncey T. Foote, Henry S. Foote, W. W. Foote Jr., now a student at Irvington, and Edith Foote, a girl of eleven years. Mrs. Foote died in Hongkong on January 16, 1900, just as her husband, who had been appointed commissioner to the exposition of Paris, was about to sail for the Orient, where Mrs. Foote had planned to join him in the journey to Paris by way of the East Indies. The family home was at 1154 Brush street, Oakland.

One of Mr. Foote's sisters was the wife of William M. Stewart. She was killed last year in an automobile accident in Alameda. Other sisters are Mrs. Jane Foote Martin, now living in Oakland and Jennie Aldrich of 2325 Clay street, San Francisco. Henry S. Foote, a brother, the former United States District Attorney, is now in the East.

Mr. Foote was one of the charter members of the University Club of San Francisco and he was a member of the Olympic Club. He was prominent in the Athenian Club in Oakland and had been its president for several years.

HIS SUCCESS AT THE BAR.

Colonel Foote stood among the foremost at the bar. His place in the legal profession was unique, but his career was notable for its long line of brilliant successes. He earned enormous fees which he spent with a prodigal hand. Although a Southerner of chivalric mould and impulsively rash temper, he was an antagonist of the most forceful kind when encountered in the trial of an important case, and few men cared to oppose him. He was keen and deep in the study of the law, eloquent and powerful in his oratory, and peculiarly masterful in the examination of witnesses. One of his close associates says that he has earned $1,500,000 in fees, of which nearly a quarter of a million was earned in three cases. He was attorney for Sarah Althea Hill in the celebrated Sharon case. He was one of Florence Blythe's attorneys, presenting her case before Judge Coffey and bearing the brunt of the battle in court. While at work on the Blythe case he still performed a great deal of other work, and his fees in one of the years, aside from the Blythe litigation, amounted to $150,000. Yet he was so generous and free with his money and cared so little for it that the estate left by him is probably small. Additional big civil cases which he handled were the Grace Varney contest of Capitalist Varney's will, the famous Merritt will contest at Oakland (in both of which he won for the heirs) and the Mrs. Craven case against the Fair estate, which was lost. His practice in the criminal courts made him especially noted for his displays of wit and eloquence and force. He defended M. B. Curtis (Sam'l o' Posen) in the several trials for the killing of Policeman Grant and ultimately obtained his acquittal. Some years before that he was attorney for Jimmie Hope classed as one of the greatest bank burglars of this age but Hope was convicted. In the McWhirter murder case at Fresno in 1894 he defended Richard Heath and the vigor with which he fought his opponents resulted in several threats to shoot him but he fearlessly carried on the defense and his client was acquitted.

A DEMOCRATIC LEADER.

Colonel Foote was always an active and influential leader in the Democratic party, and prior to 1900, when he was in Paris, a tending every national convention. He served a term as Railroad Commissioner, but was defeated for re-election by a narrow plurality in a heavily Republican district. He was candidate for United States Senator against Stephen M. White and was defeated. In 1894 he was urged to run for the Governorship, but refused. Since 1897 he has been on the Yosemite Commission and he has taken a deep interest in the improvement of the valley.

His last generous work had hardly been completed at the time of his death. This was an effort to raise funds for the benefit of Galen Clark, the old guardian of the Yosemite and the discoverer of the Mariposa grove of big trees, a man now ninety years old and broken down in health. Mr. Foote obtained from Mr. Clark the story of the Yosemite, wrote it out for him and had it published in book form. Then he contributed $50 for the purchase of the book and induced many of his friends to subscribe. As a result of this enterprise Secretary Lerman of the Yosemite Commission now has on hand a fund of about $400 for the Yosemite guardian.

In 1894 Mr. Foote broke one of the bones in one of his feet while jumping from the wharf onto the deck of a tug-boat at Sausalito. An attack of pneumonia followed, and then the attorney nearly died. Dr. Luke Robinson, one of the attending physicians, thought best to make the fact known to him.

"Now, Foote," he said, "you had better arrange your affairs. It is my duty to tell you that you haven't much chance to recover. I think you are going to die."

"What are my chances, doctor?" asked Foote.

"You have about one chance in a hundred," was the reply.

"Well," said Foote, and it was characteristic of him, "I'll stake my life on that chance."

Colonel Foote numbered among his friends many public men of national prominence, among them Henry Watterson of the Louisville Courier-Journal, former Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson and Senator Bate of Tennessee. As the head of the California Commission to the Paris Exposition, he made this State famed for its hospitality. To do this he expended a small fortune from his own private funds. In company with William G. Henshaw, he made an extensive tour of Spain, and his description of some of their experiences will long remain in the memory of his friends as gems of spontaneous humor.

SCENIC HIGHWAY REPORT.

VIEWS SUBMIT THEIR FINDINGS ON NEW SAN LEANDRO BOULEVARD.

A full report on the proposed Scenic Highway to be constructed from East Oakland, through San Leandro to Hayward, was presented at the meeting of the Alameda County Board of Supervisors this morning by viewers, County Surveyor E. C. Prather, I. B. Parsons and A. B. Carey.

The viewers were appointed on June 15 of last year and since that time have been busily engaged in running lines for the proposed thoroughfare and in making arrangements for the boulevard to pass through property.

An exhaustive report was tendered showing the amounts allowed for property confiscated. As a rule the land was donated, the viewers agreeing to pay for destroyed fencing. The amount of such claims aggregated $25,212.25 while the total cost of construction is estimated to be $283,000.

The boulevard will run from High street in Brooklyn Township, taking a northeasterly direction to the foothills skirting the foothills to San Leandro and then running on a line about parallel with the San Leandro road from San Leandro to Hayward.

It is proposed to make the boulevard, which will be about nine miles long, the scenic driveway of Alameda county. It is understood that no franchise for any railroad, either steam or electric, will be granted along the roadway.

In fixing the last tax levy the Supervisors provided for the creation of a fund to be used in the construction of the road and there is now to the credit of the fund $90,000.

If the road is finally adopted as a public road contracts will be immediately let for the macadamizing of the first five miles and as much work as possible will be done annually until the road is completed.

At the time the matter was originally presented to the board it was supported by the Board of Trade and the Merchants' Exchange of Oakland and by delegation of citizens of Brooklyn and Eden townships.

The meeting three weeks hence was fixed as the time for hearing protests against the boulevard.

BIDS RECEIVED FOR SAFE.

SUPERVISORS POSTPONE THE MATTER FOR FURTHER HEARING.

The Board of Supervisors met in regular session today.

Bids were opened for the proposed new safe to be installed in the office of the County Treasurer.

The following communication referred to the necessity of a safe:

"To the Honorable, the Board of Supervisors of Alameda County—Gentlemen: I beg to advise your Honorable Body that the amount of money coming into the Treasurer's office is largely in excess of the amount received in former years and, as a matter of prudence, I respectfully suggest that you make such inquiry as to you shall seem fit, with a view to determining whether or not the present facilities of the office are the best, or are adequate to the proper handling of the thorough safeguarding of the money that comes into the Treasurer's custody. Respectfully,

"A. W. FEIDLER, Treasurer."

TREASURER'S SAFE.

Bids for the safe were received from the Security Coin Company and the Herring-Hall-Marvin Safe Company. The bid of the Security Coin Company was $35,000 and the Herring-Hall-Marvin Company $6000.

The Security Coin Company has the best Bid device called for in the specifications, while the Herring-Hall-Marvin Company agreed to build the device called for.

The bids were referred to the Committee of the Whole.

S. U. Du Bois, a representative of the Marvin Safe Company, declared that there had been no mistake in the bid offered by his firm.

Supervisor Rowe wanted to know if Mr. Du Bois could produce specifications of the work he proposed to do and Du Bois said he could. In answer to a question the safe man said that the coin trays called for could be furnished, although they might not be of a particular patent.

SAFE SPECIFICATIONS.

In accordance with the request of the Supervisors, Clerk Cook read the specifications. The trays must be so built as to expose the coin and permit it to be held at the same time.

The safe is to be installed within the 5th and 20th day of July.

Specifications within a few days.

Attorney Lin Church, who represented the Security Coin Company, stated to the Supervisors that the Marvin Safe Company for the Herring-Hall-Marvin Company to furnish the trays called for as there are strict patents covering them.

"There is a difference here of $29,000 in these bids," said Chairman Mitchell. "and we must find time in which to look into this matter."

"Would you put up bonds to cover your bid," asked Chairman Mitchell of Du Bois.

"I would," he replied.

SAMPLE TRAY SHOWN.

A sample of the coin tray proposed to be furnished was shown by John Williams of the Security Coin Company.

POSTPONED THREE WEEKS.

That the Herring-Hall-Marvin Safe Company may have time in which to present specifications further consideration of the bids was postponed for three weeks.

HOPES TO EXCEL THOMAS PARR

DR. W. L. BROWN OF OAKLAND NINETY-FOUR YEARS OLD.

A practicing doctor, living in the vicinity of Oakland, is presumed to be the oldest member of his profession in the entire world. Dr. W. L. Brown of 1810 Stanford avenue, Golden Gate, is 94 years of age, and for sixty-five years he has been a physician. He is above middle height and heavily built, and is in the enjoyment of robust health. His memory is particularly good. Dr. Brown's mother was 104 years old when she expired and his father was 126 when death seized him. He hopes to exceed the age attained by Thomas Parr, who died in his 152d year, in 1635, and was buried in Westminster Abbey. Parr was alive during the reigns of ten English sovereigns, namely, Edward IV, Edward V, Richard III, Henry VII, Henry VIII, Edward VI, Mary, Elizabeth, James I and Charles I. The great Shakespeare died but fifty-two when he died in 1616, nineteen years before Parr's demise.

The Street Department is rushing the work of repairs along and by the time this sheet goes to press all four of the cave-ins will have been repaired and in order.
